Russia Warned by U.S. On 'Reckless Shooting'

Protest Is Lodged on Incidents

Flagrant Acts, Kremlin Is Told

PERLIN (AP)—The U.S. command has put it squarely up to the Soviets to halt "the reckless" shooting by East German police along the East-West Berlin border.

An American spokesman said Gen. Albert Watson, II, chief of U.S. forces in Berlin, personally protested Friday to the Soviet commandant, Col. A. I. Solovyev, at East Berlin headquarters.

Follows Border Shots

The United States and other Western allies do not recognize the East German Communist regime, regarding it as a Soviet puppet.

The U.S. protest came only a few hours after East German border guards peppered the American sector with machinegun and rifle fire. U.S. military and West Berlin police held their fire. There were no reports of casualties.

Watson "warned against the consequences of the reckless and illegal conduct" of the East German police, the spokesman said. "Gen. Watson also protested to the Soviets about other flagrant incidents which recently affected the peace and security of the American sector," he added.

Followed Refugees' Dash

The early morning shooting from the Communist sector came as nine refugees broke through a barbed wire fence to West Berlin in a truck. All scrambled out and raced to safety in a hail of bullets fired by East German border guards.

East German guns rattled again when two other East Berliners eluded them and escaped into the French sector. The firing halted after the refugees disappeared down a railroad track well within the Western zone.

Mock Air War Opens NoonToday

Sky Shield Drill To Test Defenses

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mock but mighty aerial war flared high in the skies over the North American continent today.

At noon hundreds of jet interceptor planes began screaming aloft from runways in the United States and Canada.

Antiaircraft missile launchers pointed toward targets, although they fired no actual missiles.

Civilian Planes Grounded

Jet bombers headed down from near the polar regions. They flew far aloft or hugged the terrain to escape radar detection, over routes Soviet pilots likely would take in strikes toward targets.

From noon to midnight no airliner, no civilian plane would be airborne while the air maneuvers soared above over 14-million square miles of the continent and its seaward environs.

Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, chief of the North American Air Defense Command—a combined organization of U.S. and Canadian defense systems—directed the defenders from his headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. He announced the start of exercise Sky Shield II at noon, EST.

No Contest

"Any military weapons system must be thoroughly exercised from time to time to assure progressive improvement and exercise Sky Shield II provides that

Adlai Says Red Threat Aimed at Wrecking UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States says the Soviet Union appears to be threatening to wreck the United Nations unless the world organization bows to Red demands for revamping the U.N. secretariat.

Replies to Zorin

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, made the accusation in replying Friday to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin's contention that "if the path of nonagreed decisions is taken, this will cause the organization to collapse."

Stevenson, commenting on the statements made by Zorin at a news conference, said, "I wish Mr. Zorin would not threaten the United Nations with disaster if he does not have his own way." The U.S. delegate declared that in negotiations to find a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold as U.N. secretary-general, the United States would "resist the concept of the troika or the ideological division of the world into three blocs."

Hits One-Man Rule

Zorin complained in his 2½-hour talks with newsmen that the U.N. secretariat has been taken over by one-man rule. He mentioned no names but made it clear that his reference was aimed at Hammarskjold's American deputy, Andrew W. Cordier.

"The man is acting by right of seizure of power without asking anybody," Zorin said. "He runs the secretariat not in the interest of the organization as a

Schwenk Pledges Action To Restore City Parks

John J. Schwenk, Republican candidate for Mayor on Friday outlined his plan for restoring and revitalizing Kingston's parks and recreation program.

Speaking at Downtown Republican Campaign Headquarters, Schwenk pledged himself to make Kingston's parks attractive and interesting once again to all age groups, "so that our youngsters will seek constructive outlets for their energies; so that families will enjoy the parks as a group; so that our senior citizens can find some of the leisure pleasure and companionship for which they have worked so hard so long."

Cites Lawton Park

The Republican mayorality candidate used Lawton Park as an example of what could be done with "a little money and lots of imagination" to make the park program a real community service.

An exceptionally beautiful setting for family outings, Lawton Park has a lodge that can provide shelter during inclement weather, Schwenk said. The park roads, he added could provide safe, off-street sleigh riding and the lodge a place to warm up. Adequate lighting and supervisory personnel would make it possible for the many children who attended afternoon school session, as well as older groups, to enjoy invigorating outdoor evening activities.

"This same approach to our other parks would result in vast improvements of recreational facilities and activities throughout the city," Schwenk declared.

Eyes Skating Facilities

As another example, he cited the possible expansion of the city's ice skating facilities by such inexpensive methods as converting Forsyth Park's tennis courts into a winter ice skating rink.

Schwenk also said that he favored a return of "family nights" in the city parks, and increased use of municipal auditorium and Dietz Stadium for public events and activities in which all age groups could participate.

He stressed the fact that recreational facilities must grow as a city increases in size and population, and for this reason, said that he is in complete accord with the search for sites such as Kingston Point Park to meet future needs.

Questions Park Fund

However, he pointed out that the improvements he already has in mind for Lawton Park alone indicate that "we are not receiving a full measure of city service for our tax dollar in the almost $100,000 annual appropriation for parks and recreation."

Vows Immediate Steps

If chosen to represent the people of Kingston as their mayor,

Hotel Blaze Claims 2 in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Firemen poked through the still-warm embers of a second class hotel in the French Quarter today.

Two—and possibly more—men were believed dead and five firemen injured.

Spreads to Bank

A repeated general alarm brought more than 30 major fire-fighting units screaming into the French Quarter Friday night. The fire broke out in the Silver Dollar Hotel—one block above Canal Street—and quickly jumped to a branch of the Whitney National Bank.

Firemen played streams of water from two-dozen high pressure hoses on to the hotel and bank building as flames skipped across the rooftops.

Fire chief Howard Dey and his top lieutenants hustled quickly from the Firemen's Ball at Municipal Auditorium to supervise the battle against the leaping flames.

Two Believed Trapped

Dey explained there was no verification of the two dead, but employes of the hotel said they thought there were about nine transients in the building when the fire broke out. Two were believed to have been trapped.

The Silver Dollar, lurking in the shadow of one of the French Quarter's luxury hotels, was gutted.

Dey estimated the damage at a quarter-million dollars.

Ike Plans Quiet 71st Birthday at Gettysburg Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower celebrates a quiet 71st birthday today on his farm in Gettysburg.

No special events were planned for the big day—just some golf and a little bridge. He intended to spend most of the time with old friends.

Celebrated Last Night

Actually, the birthday celebration took place Friday night at the home of his son, Col. John Eisenhower, who lives on the southwest edge of the farm.

For the party, Eisenhower wore a tuxedo while his wife wore a black chiffon dinner dress and a white fur stole—a present from her husband several years ago.

"Just like your old cadet days, isn't it?" one newsman quipped.

The general replied, "Yes, but I didn't have a car in those days.

Grandchildren Entertained

"This is the very first time I've ever ridden with him at the wheel," Mrs. Eisenhower confided. Eisenhower only recently received his driver's license.

The party consisted of a play put on by the Eisenhowers' grandchildren and a birthday dinner prepared by their daughter-in-law, Barbara.

Inn Is Partially Burned

BCI Is Probing Fire At Blue Mountain

Kingston BCI is investigating the origin of an early morning fire today which destroyed part of the Blue Mountain Inn, a well-known hostelry in the northwest area of the Town of Saugerties.

Sgt. Linn Baker of Lake Katrine state police said a BCI man had been assigned to investigate and went to the scene while the fire was still in progress.

Caused Considerable Damage

Centerville Fire Department Chief Robert G. Thein said the fire of undetermined origin burned away the back portion of the two-story frame building and caused considerable damage to the recreation room, sanitary facilities and the main dining room. He said there was considerable smoke damage.

Centerville and Cedar Grove companies of the department responded with two trucks each. More than 100 men were at the scene to fight the blaze, reported at 4:35 a. m.

Through Mutual Aid two-way radio, Saxton Fire Company was called and responded with a tank truck. Tankers were refilled several times from the Plattekill stream nearby.

When Mutual Aid alerted Saxton, through some technical difficulty, all fire company sirens in the county under the Mutual Aid systems were sounded.

Malden-West Camp Fire Company, serving an area adjacent to the Centerville District was alerted by the general call and dispatched three cars with eight men to the scene of the fire.

Chief Elected Tuesday

Thein, who was elected to his new post as chief on Tuesday night, said the volunteers did a good job in containing the blaze to the back portion of the building.

Victor Konopkie, a neighbor, called Centerville Fire Company when he saw the blaze, Chief Thein said.

An estimate of the damage was not immediately determined and the owner, Nicholas Fusco of Blue Mountain could not be reached by press time.

Kingston Troopers Richard Ryan and Harry Saunders, also responded to the alarm.

Hits Parked Vehicle

A car operated by Donald J. Freer, 30, of 143 Pine Grove Avenue, was involved in a collision at 11:29 p. m. Friday with a parked car owned by Adrian Beadle, of Boiceville, according to police. The mishap occurred on Pine Grove Avenue.

Solons Hit Sale Of Jets to Tito, Charge Treason

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. sale of 135 Saber Jet fighters to Communist Yugoslavia has run into quick and sharp criticism from some members of Congress.

Two senators urged the deal be canceled and Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., said the transaction "borders on treason."

Part of Package Deal

The sale—a package deal in which eight Yugoslav air force men are being trained at Perrin Air Force Base, Texas—was disclosed Friday by the State Department.

The reason for the transaction, said the State Department, was to help Yugoslavia stay free of Soviet domination.

The sale of the U.S. surplus all-weather F86D interceptor planes is by far the largest U.S. arms transaction with Belgrade since Yugoslavia's President Tito halted American arms aid to his country in 1957.

The State Department said Yugoslavia paid cash—not credit—for the planes and the training. It was a business transaction that did not involve foreign aid, the department said.

Doubts Any Sale

But in Monroe, La., Passman termed the transaction "as phony as a $3 bill," and he added, "If there was a sale at all, which I doubt, the planes cost the Yugoslav government only a small fraction of the planes' cost and the Communist government used money given to them by this country to pay for the aircraft. It borders on treason and makes me sick to see our country do something like this."

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said in Louisville, Ky., that the Yugoslav airmen should be shipped home and a total embargo placed on aid to Yugoslavia. He said

Orignally due in mid-August, the firm requested and was granted an extension of the contract period with no extra cost to the city. The extension of time was warranted by the need for the planners to devote considerable efforts to the city's federal

Senior Diplomats PlanLondonTalks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior diplomats of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will try next week in London to develop some counterproposals to the Soviet Union's demands on the Western powers in connection with the Berlin crisis.

Diplomatic informants said today that exploratory talks with the Soviet government on possible Berlin negotiations have gone about as far as they can until the Western allies decide their own future policy lines.

Such decisions are expected to cover the future status of West Berlin, the issue of nuclear arms in Germany, the possible development of low-level relations between East and West Germany, German reunification and other questions that have arisen in the

Rayburn in Fine Spirits for HST Visit on Friday

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, apparently fully recovered from pneumonia but still battling cancer, which doctors call incurable, began his 12th day in Baylor Hospital today.

Former President Harry S. Truman, a long-time political pal, visited him briefly Friday and reported the veteran speaker in fine spirits.

'Sorry as Can Be'

Truman knew, although Rayburn has not been told, that physicians regard his case as hopeless.

"Sam Rayburn means everything to me that one man can mean to another," the former president said. "One of the finest things in the world is the friendship between Sam Rayburn and me. I'm sorry as can be to see him in bed because I know he doesn't like to stay there."

Doctors said Rayburn appeared definitely stronger. They said he remained seriously ill but didn't appear critically so.

The latest bulletin said he spent a relatively comfortable day and

Hoffa-Bridges Alliance Target

McClellan Would Curb 'Lethal' Labor Tieup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today alliances linking allegedly Communist-dominated labor unions and James R. Hoffa's Teamsters could wield "lethal and monopolistic power."

He called for enactment of legislation to curb them.

Hoffa testified Friday he was strengthening his "mutual assistance" pact with Harry Bridges' West Coast longshoremen's union and also has an alliance with the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union.

Bridges' union and the mine worker's union were expelled from the CIO in 1950 on charges of following Communist policies.

In questioning Hoffa, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee labeled both unions as Communist dominated.

"I don't know whether they are Communist-dominated or not," Hoffa said of the two unions, "There will be no pact between the Teamsters Union and any organization so convicted."

Hoffa said the pacts with the two unions were aimed solely at "labor solidarity" and had no political or ideological implications.

At the outset of the hearing Hoffa declared that he welcomed a chance to testify under oath that

Two Will Exchange Prisoners

Cease-Fire Is Signed By U. N. and Katanga

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The United Nations Command in the Congo announced today the signing of a cease-fire agreement with Katanga described as extending the provisional pact signed last month.

The agreement provides that prisoners taken by both sides during last month's fighting will be exchanged Monday.

It includes what is in effect U.N. recognition of Katanga's right to defend itself in the event of attack by forces of the central Congo government who are reported massing on Katanga's borders.

The key point for agreement states: "The representatives of the United Nations do not consider as a violation of the cease-fire a reply from the Katangese gendarmerie against an attack coming from the exterior."

The agreement was signed late Friday night by Katanga's President, Moise Tshombe, and Mahmoud Khiari, chief of the U.N. civil operations in Congo, after more than three weeks negotiation.

The POWER of FAITH

PROMINENT MEN OF FAITH

Rev. Dr. Dana McLean Greeley

"I will preach and practice love, and proclaim peace, deep love of God and love of man," says the Rev. Dr. Dana McLean Greeley, first president of the new Unitarian Universalist Association.

High office is not new to this past president of the Harvard Divinity School Alumni Assn. and the Massachusetts Council of Churches. He was also president of the New England Citizens' Crime Commission, a member of the Governor's Commission on the study of Capital Punishment, and a board member of the Institute on Religion in an Age of Science.

"Democracy means love, and brotherhood means love," says this leader of liberal religion, "and a free faith must be a harbinger of democracy and brotherhood . . . love is the supreme energy of the total creation itself."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 14, 1961

OUR EDUCATION BILL

Well-advertised is the forecast that this country's college enrollment will nearly double, to reach a total of six million, by 1970. Handling this immense growth comes down, like so many present problems, to the question of where we get the money.

The U. S. Office of Education estimates that to cope with this expansion and maintain adequate schooling standards we will need to spend $19 billion by 1970 for new academic facilities alone.

This leaves out of account the cost of necessary new college housing, as well as scholarships and other aids to students.

The $19 billion estimated for physical plant would be two and a half times the sum spent for such purposes in the 1950s. "Getting it up" obviously will be a huge order.

Office of Education studies of present and past money sources suggest that $13.5 billion of the total could be run up from state and local appropriations, direct taxes, non federal bonds, gifts and grants. The other $5.5 billion would have to be dug up elsewhere.

On the U.S. Senate calendar and due for early 1962 action is a college facility loan bill which would authorize $300 million of federal money for construction loans the first year, with the total that could be thus obligated rising each year by another $300 million, until after five years a maximum of $1.5 billion was fixed.

Senate Labor Committee specialists think chances of Senate passage are strong, since the committee approval was overwhelming. But final congressional adoption is rated doubtful.

The House, which barred the way to approval of a general federal aid bill for public elementary and high schools, is evidently prepared to maintain a similar roadblock at college levels. A bill much like the Senate proposal won basic committee endorsement in the House, but has since been bottled up by the Rules Committee.

Advocates of federal aid for schools at any and all levels hardly will be taking much heart from the 1961 history of aid legislation.

Whether other new sources of money can be found in the next decade is an open question. Some surveys indicate that the total new construction bill might be held within limits a good deal short of $19 billion if existing and projected college facilities were put to more complete and efficient use than is commonly the case.

It should be clear, however, that we cannot—without some peril to our future—shave costs to the extent that we either deprive some eligible young people of their chance for college learning or put them on a skimpy, inadequate educational diet.

There is a price for the excellence we want and need in our citizens and leaders, and we must be willing to pay it.

BRAIN STILL TICKS AT 60

We've all heard a good deal about the organization man. Now, apparently, we're going to have the "organization old man."

Reports abound that many U.S. firms are teaching their employes how to retire. In some cases the companies run schools for prospective retirees, and at one spot the guidance starts 15 years before retirement.

Of course there are grains of good sense in this. It is well the elderly should understand their health problems, their retirement rights, the dangers of being bilked of savings.

But shouldn't it be assumed that at 60 to 70 most people have a whale of a lot of individual resourcefulness left in them? Don't they retire at least partly to get beyond the planner's long arm?

At that age you shouldn't have to ask yourself whether it fits the company plan before you take a walk in the woods.

THE FORTHCOMING SOVIET PROGRAM

Each time a Soviet Communist Party program is enunciated, thousands of words are written, which are read with the greatest care by Communists throughout the world, and by the experts in all foreign offices. The Party Congress program is canonical and deviation from it means counter-revolution and can result in expulsion from the party which often involves serious consequences for the individual concerned. For some, it has meant death.

The Congress is to be held this month and to it will go all the important Communist leaders from all parts of the world. Members of the party will watch who sits on the platform, for not only does the presence on the platform but the position of the individual, the propinquity to Khrushchev, determine a man's importance and his future.

The document is a paean to Soviet accomplishments:

"The great October Socialist Revolution ushered in a new era in the history of mankind, the era of the downfall of capitalism and the establishment of Communism. Socialism has triumphed in the Soviet Union and has achieved decisive victories in the people's democracies; socialism has became a cause of practical significance to hundreds of millions of people, and the bearer of the revolutionary movement of the working class throughout the world."

Further, the Platform says:

"One-third of mankind is building a new life under the banner of scientific communism. The first contingents of the working class to shake off obsolete oppression are facilitating victory for fresh contingents of their class brothers. The Socialist world is expanding; the capitalist world is shrinking. Socialism will inevitably succeed capitalism everywhere. Such is the objective law of social development. Imperialism is powerless to check the irresistible process of emancipation."

It is this statement which will have an enormous influence in the former colonial countries. For when the Communists associate themselves with anti-imperialism, they take in a good part of the world that has been freed from colonialism, much of it through American aid. Thus the Afro-Asian nations are included in the success of Communism whereas, as a matter of fact, they have, most of them, not yet become stabilized in any political or economic system. To Khrushchev that does not matter because he assumes power wherever he can; he accepts success wherever it suits his purposes. For instance, in the statement of the fundamental struggle, the Platform says not a word of the enormous progress that the worker has made in Western Europe and the United States. Instead, the party Platform says:

"Capitalism, by concentrating millions of workers in its factories, socializing the process of labor, imparts a social character to production; nevertheless it is the capitalists who appropriate the fruits of labor. This fundamental contradiction of capitalism — the contradiction between the social character of production and the private — capitalist form of appropriation — manifests itself in production anarchy and in the fact that the purchasing power of society falls short of the expansion of production and leads periodically to destructive economic crises."

This is an interesting statement because it recognizes the socializing process of production in the capitalist countries. In the United States, for instance, increasingly the worker is an owner of the industry in which he works or of other industries. Some industries are owned by labor unions. In a Marxist country, all industry is owned by the state monopolistically and the worker only participates in ownership in the sense that as a citizen, he has certain rights within the state. Furthermore in a Marxist country the worker is deprived of the most valuable fruits of production, namely, the choice of selection of consumer goods, for it is the state alone which determines what should be made and what should be used and in what quantities. And production is based upon the necessities of the state not upon the desires of the individual, which means that the state may deprive its own people of what they desire to give it to another nation for political reasons.

Freedom of choice of consumers goods the Platform calls production anarchy. For instance, why use steel to make automobiles when it is advantageous to the state to use steel for the manufacture of weapons of terror and war? In the Soviet concept of a planned society, only that is produced, the existence of which benefits the state. The individual does not matter. He is a statistical unit on a chart, a creature to serve the necessities of the state.

The Mature Parent

Self-Accusation Saps Our True Self of Value

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

My older child was hardly 2 years old when I married my husband. At that time the baby was too young to be told about my trouble, and we let him think my husband was his real father. My husband adopted him and we were going to tell him on his 5th birthday, when I discovered that I was going to have a second child. We put it off again. Now 12 years old, he's asking me questions. I think he overheard something my sister said this summer. . . .

ANSWER: I think it would be well-spent money to ask a psychiatrist's help with telling the truth to your boy.

When it's been told, I think you'll be profoundly relieved.

A young person experiencing deep trouble will, like you, somehow get over it. But bearing a child out of wedlock is a very lonely and frightening thing. At the time, we may have to develop a protective disconnection from our turbulent feelings in order to do what has to be done.

So, instead of going through them and coming out whole on the other side, we jump over them. It is that jumped-over apprehension and shame, which belong to that painful past, that now threaten you with punishing hate from your son at his discovery of the truth.

But if you get psychiatric help with your obligation to tell it, your fear of telling it will lessen.

You may find a wholly new and unsuspected value in that lonely and frightened girl of whom you are now so ashamed. Your woman's heart may be able to feel compassion for her bewilderment and hurt; a respect for the courage with which she struggled to solve her harsh problem. With such new appreciation of the girl that you were, you will be able to give her son the real truth about her, instead of what your present apprehension and shame tell you was the truth.

I think it would be unnecessarily cruel to falsify to your child that girl who bore him in loneliness and fear; who gave him motherhood under such difficult circumstances and found him a good father to replace a bad one.

But I cannot make you know how brave she was. To know that you have to find it out for yourself.

To do that you need the help of a psychiatrist whose job it is to restore to us the lost substance of ourselves stolen from us by self-accusation and guilt.

"I Was Hit by a Mirage"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Mention of U Thant of Burma as a dark horse possibility to succeed U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold brings into Western limelight a little-known Asiatic diplomat.

THERE IS NO ASSURANCE YET that U Thant, Mongi Slim of Tunisia or anybody else will or will not get the job. As it moves into its fourth week of debate without having done anything, the general assembly is still trying to find an acceptable formula for naming Hammarskjold's successor.

Numerous intermediaries from the Soviet Union have all brought out different versions of Russian proposals. Every one was a feeler. None was reduced to writing nor made definite enough for serious negotiations.

It was for this reason that the United States felt it necessary to restate its unchanged support for an interim secretary-general with full authority, named by the general assembly without a controlling group of three or four or five undersecretaries, and without political representation of any kind.

SELECTION OF U THANT MAY BE a compromise solution for this otherwise insurmountable difficulty. He has not pushed himself as a candidate. When his name was first suggested just after the assembly convened, the Burma statesman said he would have to ask his government if he could accept. That approval has been given.

He has been coming to the U.N. for 10 years, and for the last four has been head of Burma's permanent delegation. He knows the political ups and downs of the U.N. skyscraper and the sideways movement of its delegates' lounge.

He has the respect of his colleagues in the Afro-Asian bloc of new nations and was their chairman last year.

One principal criticism of his candidacy is that he has never held a high position in his own government. But neither had Trygve Lie nor Dag Hammarskjold when they were named secretary-general. Their reputations were national and regional.

U Thant is 51 years old. After graduation from Rangoon University he became a high school teacher and headmaster. He was on the board which reorganized the educational system when Burma became independent after the war.

In 1947 he became press director for the Burmese government and then director of broadcasting. He became secretary to Prime Minister U Nu in 1953, then secretary of the cabinet.

American newspaper correspondents who have covered U Thant's office in both Burma and New York have found him to be a talented executive in a quiet, genteel way.

HE IS ALSO A TOUGH ADMINISTRATOR; unyielding, impossible to push around. He did some effective work in curbing Burmese Communists. At the U.N. he has on occasion squelched even Gromyko in short, pointed speeches he writes himself, in longhand.

U Thant is a Buddhist. A man of that faith would be something different in high international councils, but its philosophy might contribute a great deal to world peace.

In his speech during U.N. general debate last year, U. Thant pointed out that the main obstacle to peace was the world's division into two hostile, ideological camps, "each suspicious and fearful of the other and both scrambling to entice recruits into their respective ranks."

This would seem to mark U Thant as a neutralist. But he observed that peace cannot be established by passive neutralism.

U THANT HAS URGED CONTINUOUS EFFORTS to reach some agreement on disarmament. And he has been an active supporter of the idea that a ban on nuclear testing is an essential preliminary to an agreement that will halt the arms race. He supported Red China Chou En-lai's proposal of 1959 for clearing Asia and the Pacific of all nuclear weapons, not questioning its good faith.

U Thant supported Secretary General Hammarskjold's actions in carrying out security council resolultions in the Congo. He declared that his government saw no need to modify the secretary-general's functions nor to reorganize his office.

"The Congo," he said, "marked the start of a new phase in U.N. eveolution. It is our fervent hope that it will emerge as the world's indispensable agency."

With the world in a period of acute crisis, he regarded as a most hopeful sign the fact that all significant campaigns in the cold war are being fought out in the U.N.

Varied Play Reveals Skill

By OSWALD JACOBY

If you don't think anything can happen in a team game, look at the bidding in the box. North's raise to four spades was one of those gambling preempts and South's jump to six was optimistic to say the least.

Playing at six, South ruffed the opening club lead, cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, led the jack of hearts from dummy, put the ace on East's queen, ruffed his last diamond, drew trumps and conceded a trick to the king of hearts. Simple!

At the other table North contented himself with a raise to two spades and South went on to find a way to go down at the game contract.

He ruffed the first club and then proceeded to play the ace and another heart. East won the trick and forced South to trump another club, whereupon a second trick was lost to the heart king and a third club lead left South with two trumps only.

At this point the game contract was in jeopardy but South could still have made it by cross-ruffing diamonds and clubs, but he had another idea.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, writes on fire hazards in today's article:

Housecleaning time is a good time to take a long, thoughtful look at your house to see if you really have done everything possible to minimize the danger of fire.

The motto of National Fire Prevention Week, which is being observed Oct. 8 to 14 this year, is "Don't give fire a place to start." Officials of the United States Department of Agriculture and the National Fire Protection Association, co-sponsors of the campaign, note that, "A clean house seldom burns."

They emphasize that trash left around the house and grounds is one of the most serious fire hazards. Trash should be cleaned out regularly and disposed of safely. Other sound fire prevention practices which they suggest are: regular inspections of home and grounds; care in handling fire in the house as when smoking or using matches; replacement of damaged or worn wires or lightning rods; and removal of dry vegetation from around buildings and along fence rows.

They also suggest that all members of the family be well trained in fire safety practices. "Plan at least two escape routes from every room in the house, and go over plans with every member of the family. Anticipate halls and stairs being blocked by fire. Keep exits clear," they write.

Housecleaning Helpers

"A Housecleaning Handbook," Extension Bulletin 950, is a condensed but comprehensive guide to general housecleaning, and offers suggestions on both equipment to use and on methods.

A series on more specific aspects of the job is numbered 952-55. These are, by numerical order: "How to Clean Wallpaper, Walls, and Woodwark." "How to Dust and Clean Furniture," "How to Care for the Glass and Metals in Your Home," and "How to Clean and Care for Plastics."

Man Seized Blocks Away From Brutal Murder; Admits 2 More

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A sex criminal on the FBI's "10 most wanted" list was tracked down and quietly arrested Friday night only four blocks from the scene of a brutal murder.

The FBI said the victim was one of three women he confessed having killed.

Ex-Mental Patient

Hugh Bion Morse, good-looking 31-year-old former mental patient in California, bragged to authorities he had slain two women at Spokane, Wash. He is wanted for questioning in at least one other slaying there.

Morse was captured without resistance at his rooming house, although agents found a loaded 25-caliber pistol, a knife and a straightedged razor in the room.

He was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner William Eckley and ordered held in a marshal's custody without bail. A federal warrant in Los Angeles issued Feb. 16, 1961 charged Morse with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for burglary, and assault to commit murder.

Friday the 13th was the end of the line for the wavy haired, tatooed former serviceman who has a history of sex crimes going back 10 years.

Sept. 19 Slaying

William H. Williams, special agent in charge of the FBI office at Minneapolis, said Morse had confessed to the Sept. 19 slaying here of Carol Ronan, 34, a social worker and graduate nurse.

She was found beaten strangled and raped in her apartment the next morning. Agents found her watch in a cigar box in Morse's room.

Spokane police said they wanted to question Morse about the killings of Gloria Brie, an attractive young wife who was found beaten to death in her bed in 1959; Blanche Boggs, an elderly widow beaten to death in her home last year, and Candy Rogers, 9, found assaulted and strangled in woods near Spokane in 1959.

Authorities said Morse had not confessed to a Los Angeles murder, as reported earlier Friday night. But the FBI said authorities in several communities wanted to question Morse about sex crimes.

Lefkowitz Hits Wagner Rule for Increase in JD

NEW YORK (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz says Mayor Robert F. Wagner is responsible for the city's failure to stamp out the rise of juvenile delinquency.

Lefkowitz said the city was spending $70 million a year to combat delinquency without getting adequate results. He called for an "all-out" drive on the problem.

Lefkowitz, a Republican, is opposing Wagner, a Democrat, in the Nov. 7 mayoral election.

McClellan Would

"Hoffa was not a Communist, has not associated with Communists, is not a Communist and never intends to be."

Four officials of the mine worker's union followed Hoffa to the witness stand.

One, a Bernard W. Stern, research director, swore he was not a Communist and wasn't one a year ago or two years ago. However, he refused to say whether he was a member of the Communist party three years ago or in 1945, when he got his union job. Stern invoked the 5th Amendment protected against being compelled to give testimony that might be self-incriminating.

Three Others Called

The three other officials called to the stand were Irving Dichter, secretary-treasurer; Harold Sanderson, comptroller, and Albert C. Skinner, western vice president. They have been convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government by filing false non-Communist affidavits.

Nathan Witt, their lawyer, objected that if the subcommittee questioned them about communism it might prejudice their cases in event of a retrial. McClellan tentatively upheld the objection, but ordered all four back for another hearing Nov. 6. Dichter and Sanderson gave some testimony, but Skinner was on the stand only long enough to agree to return in November.

Dr. Karnofsky said the drug being given to Rayburn has been used in two to 3,000 cases and results indicated "15 per cent can expect to be benefitted."

A Decision Few Have to Make

Boy, 11, Warned Dad Before Slaying Him

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Can many say they faced a harder decision than that before Paul Berrian, at age 11?

His father was drunk and pointing a gun at his mother. What decision was Paul to make?

"He made a horrible decision," an assistant district attorney said, "and, right or wrong, he will live with this the rest of his life."

Paul, a good-looking, intelligent boy in the fifth grade of an elementary school across the road from the Berrian home in suburban Rotterdam, shot his father to death.

"I picked up the other gun and told him to stop it. But he wouldn't listen to me, and I shot him," Paul said.

These were the events in the small, neat Berrian home in the early morning hours Friday, as recounted by police:

Harold Berrian, 43, out of work since a heart attack three months ago, returned home after a round of drinking.

He was in a rage. He claimed he had been given a ticket for speeding, but police say this was not so. He awakened his wife Rose, 36, and began to berate her. At one point he smashed his fist through a plastorboard wall.

Paul, his sister, Linda, 14, and brother, John, 4, were roused by the noise.

Berrian carried two 12-gauge shotguns from a bedroom, loaded them, placed one on a table and pointed the other at his wife. He threatened to kill her and the children.

Mrs. Berrian and Linda struggled with Berrian, trying to wrest the weapon from him.

Then Paul picked up the other gun off the table and made his decision. It was the first time the boy ever fired a gun. The charge struck his father in the back.

"He is a very intelligent boy and was fully aware of what he did," said Asst. Dist. Atty. Henry Bradt.

No charge was placed against the youngster.

Judge Will Rule Today On Scarbeck Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Leonard Walsh rules today whether a series of statements made by Irvin C. Scarbeck—keystone of the government's case against the former diplomat—will be admitted into evidence.

Scarbeck, 41 and married, is accused of betraying U.S. Embassy secrets in Warsaw to Polish agents who blackmailed him over his love affair with a 22-year-old Polish girl. Scarbeck was second secretary in the embassy.

Unusual Session

Calling an unusual Saturday session, Walsh said he would rule on the statements and then continue the trial. If Walsh decides against admitting them, the government's case against Scarbeck would be seriously damaged.

The defense attorney Samuel Klein, has raised these arguments against admitting them: 1. That they were obtained by improper mental coercion of Scarbeck and 2. That Scarbeck was actually arrested June 5 in Germany, but was not arraigned until June 13, violating the Mallory rule—a decision in which the Supreme Court held there must be no unnecessary delay between arrest and arraignment.

The defense contended security officer Kenneth W. Knauf threatened to have Ursula Discher, thrown into prison if he didn't confess.

"Knauf knew of Scarbeck's violent, pathological protective feeling toward someone with whom he couldn't have a lasting relationship," Klein argued, referring to Miss Discher.

"If he was reluctant and then succumbed after moral pressure was used against him, then that was not a voluntary statement," Klein said.

Prosecutor Paul Vincent said the only moral pressure involved was "the moral pressure of this defendant's conscience. It came from within and is not the type of pressure which would invalidate this confession."

Klein summed up testimony that Scarbeck had been escorted everywhere, even to the bathroom, from the time he was first interrogated in Frankfurt until he reached Washington, and that Knuf took his passport from him when they arrived at New York.

Solons Hit Sale

there has never been any doubt in his mind that Tito was in league with the Soviet Union to further world socialism.

Would Cancel Deal

In Seattle, Wash., Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the Kennedy administration should consider canceling the arrangement because of views expressed by Tito in the recent meeting of neutrals in Belgrade. However, officials said they believed the sale, delivery and payment have been completed.

Officials said the package deal was costing Yugoslavia $1.6 million. Each plane is being sold for $10,000, they said. The Saber Jets, declared surplus last year, originally cost $343,000 apiece.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the decision to send the aircraft to Yugoslavia was taken in mid-January, shortly before President Kennedy succeeded Dwight D. Eisenhower in the White House. Government sources said the Kennedy administration could have stopped delivery, which took place in ensuing months, but instead stood by the Eisenhower administration's reasons for approving the deal.

Army Will Send Walker to Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, the controversial former commander of the 24th Infantry Division, is headed for a staff job in the Pacific command.

The Army in a terse announcement Friday said that Walker would go to Hawaii next month to become assistant chief of staff for operations, plans and training in the Pacific command.

Walker was officially admonished by the Army in June. He was relieved of command of the 24th Division in Germany in April and returned to the United States recently to await reassignment.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told the Senate armed services committee in September that Walker was admonished for two reasons:

1. Conducting an indoctrination program that included "inflammatory and derogatory statements" about former public officials, including former President Harry S. Truman.

2. Attempting, through articles in the division newspapers, to influence the troops' votes in the 1960 congressional elections.

Man Who Played Big Part in Car Seat Belt Dies

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Edward R. Dye, nationally known figure in auto-safety engineering and the man given a large share of credit in development of the seat belt for passenger cars, died Friday night at his home in suburban Orchard Park. He was 59.

Dye headed an automotive crash research and development team at Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory. The work of the team resulted in construction of a safety-car prototype four years ago.

A major feature was the seat belt, an old racing-car device that Dye installed in his own automobile many years ago.

Dye left the Cornell Laboratory in 1958 to form his own company, New Products Research & Development Engineering Co. While at Cornell, he took part in the development and testing of supersonic ram-jet engine. He also aided in development of the air-supported radome, a balloon-like plastic structure now used in the nation's early warning radar line in northern Canada.

Dye, a native of Linton, Ind., was graduated from Purdue University in 1924.

He joined Curtiss-Wright here in 1942 and stayed on after World War II when Cornell University took over the company's laboratory.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Mae Theresa Finkle who passed away 1 year ago October 15.

When a mother breathes her last farewell,
The stroke means more than tongue can tell.
The world seems quite another place
Without the smile of mother's face.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.

DAUGHTERS.

K.H.S. Student Council Reports Its Activities

This is the third report of the operations of the Stuedent Council of Kingston High School. In order to streamline the process of reporting as much news as possible to you, the period between reports has been changed from one week to two.

In order to gain the opinions and views of the freshman and sophomore classes of KHS, the Executive Council has added two more members to its ranks. Appointed were a sophomore, Peggy Hazenbush, and a freshman, Joseph Esposito. With the addition of these two members, the Executive Council will be able to serve the best interests of the student body in a more accurate way.

Pictured above are three of the four Red Feather Queens who were selected by the student body of KHS. Each home room selected two girls as its nominees for Red Feather Queen. The results were then sent to a committee of Executive Council which was headed by Peter Roberts and Richard Hessdorfer. The four girls with the greatest number of home room nominations became the Red Feather Queens. By appearing at football games and at other activities, the Queens stimulated interest in the Community Chest fund raising campaign.

At the last Student Council meeting the possibility of having a student directory made available to the student body was discussed. The directory would contain the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all students at KHS.

Also discussed at the last Student Council meeting was a projected program for the annual Kingston - Newburgh football game to be held in Kingston on November 23. The program idea was given to a committee for further consideration and action.

If you have any questions, comments or ideas concerning this column or student council, please send them to the Student Council of Kingston High School, 403 Broadway, Kingston.

Fochi Addresses Democratic Group In Town of Hurley

Daniel Fochi, Democratic candidate for superintendent of Highways in Hurley, took the present Republican administration to task for its "do nothing record" concerning road conditions in that Town at a recent meeting of Democratic women.

"Every year we spend money for new equipment, repairs and labor, with no lasting results or better roads," Fochi said. "Snow removal is not prompt. When the taxpayers complain, they are told the equipment broke down. Why? Does the Town Highway Department do anything in the summer months to place the winter equipment in good condition for the following winter's work?"

Continuing, Fochi commented, "It seems the 'do nothing' policy also applies to the flooding of lawns and basements during periods of heavy rain. If there is no money available to keep the drainage ditches open and to permanently eliminate the flooding conditions, where is all the taxpayers' money being spent? More planning to get the jobs done on time and less promising to do them at some future time is my program — give the taxpayers more for their tax dollars."

On the Democratic ticket in the Town of Hurley with Fochi are Charles Bouton, for supervisor; Andrew Kispert, councilman; Michael Flanagan, town clerk; Paul McGuire, justice; Joseph Dugan and Robert Fay, assessors; and Fred Kachura, tax collector.

Feet Own Business

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Policeman R. K. Hines made a turn around the block and came back after he saw a man putting his feet in an automatic washing machine in a 24-hour public laundry.

By the time Hines returned, the man had made a complete change of clothing too. Hines decided against making an arrest.

"As far as I know, there's no law against washing your feet in a public washing machine. After all, it was his 15 cents and his feet," commented Hines.

The first coin specifically authorized for issuance in the United States was the Fugio cent of 1787. The Latin inscription FUGIO in conjunction with a sundial signified "time flies."

Textiles Is Subject Of Talk Given at B&P Club Dinner

Miss Louise Kakargo of the Ulster County Home Bureau was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the YWCA on Wednesday. Her topic was, "Modern Textiles."

Miss Kakargo discussed the evolution of textiles and their various uses by man for clothing, decoration and household articles. The four natural fibers are cotton, silk, wool and linen and Miss Kakargo illustrated the steps taken to process one of these raw materials into the finished product. It is believed man first learned by chance to twist these fibers into yarns and later, to form the yarns into cloth.

Speaking particularly of the numerous manufactured fibers or synthetics, Miss Kakargo stated each has its special characteristic and is made to fit a special need. Some are crease-resistant, some quick-drying; some extremely durable, others resistant to fade, By law, every synthetic material must bear a label stating its components and the only way the customer may receive satisfaction and be aware of the characteristics of the material she purchases is by reading the label, being familar with the terms used, and following the instructions carefully. Rayon was the first synthetic created and still the one produced in largest quantity. In many cases, the natural fibers are combined with the manufactured to form new blends, Miss Kakargo showed many sample materials to illustrate the various types of fabric now on the market.

A brief business meeting was held after the talk and demonstration. Mrs. Florence Campbell volunteered to act as club representative to the Public Relations Workshop to be held October 17 when representatives of the press and radio will explain press coverage. This meeting is sponsored by the YWCA Public Relations Committee but is open to the public.

At the meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 18, Miss Emily D. B. Hoysradt will give an illustrated talk on her trip to the West Coast this past summer. Dinner reservations must be in the Y office no later than Tuesday noon.

Faith and Life Institutes Relate Beliefs to Career

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)— Early this month 21 men gathered at a hotel in Northfield, Minn. for an intense and unusual weekend discussion.

Their aim was to thrash out among themselves problems that beset them as Christians following their chosen careers. One of the men was a theologian. The other 20 were politicians.

Later this month a similar discussion will be held in Philadelphia, except at this one the participants will be policemen. In February a group of jazz musicians will meet for the same purpose—in a Greenwich Village coffee house. Later there will be discussions for men engaged in missile research, for executives of small businesses, for nurses, press agent and newsmen; just as there already have been conferences for doctors, labor leaders and lawyers.

The meetings, called "Faith and Life Institutes," are attempts by the United Lutheran Church in America "to relate the Christian faith to vocational and public life."

The institutes so far haven't produced any pat answers or simple patterns of behavior for the participants to follow, and they don't seek to.

"We simply want to build a bridge between the world and the church," said The Rev. Herman G. Stuempfle Jr., who conceived the idea of the institutes. Rev. Stuempfle is associate director of the ULCA social action department.

"Our role is merely to provide a setting in which laymen can struggle with the basic perplexities and conflicts they meet in their daily occupations," he said. "We hope the result will be a keener sense of moral obligations by people working in a world which has grown increasingly secular."

Church affiliation has no bearing on the participants invited to the institutes; prominence in their professions and interest in the institutes' aims are the only criteria.

Music for the fall dance will be by the Johnny Michaels orchestra, from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. on Saturday, Nov. 4. Advice on reservations may be had from committee chairman James J. Sweeney at any time.

Junior sermon Habits is to be given by the seminary associate, John Reed. The sermon Mr. Parish Meets The Pastor will be jointly presented by the Rev. Edwin C. Coon and Kenneth Nickel, chairman of the Christian faith and life committee.

The choir under the direction of Percy Gazley will sing two anthems, We Praise Thee by Buketoff and Turn Back O Man by Holst.

From 7 to 8:15 p. m. Junior High Fellowship will meet. Mr. Reed will continue the discussion on Why We Meet. Bruce MacFadden will lead the closing worship.

Other services for the week are: Monday 7 p. m. senior Girl Scouts and Intermediate Girl Scouts. Tuesday 3:30 p. m. Brownies; 3:30 p. m. Cub Scouts, 7 p. m. Boy Scouts; Wednesday, 2:15 p. m. release time education for third through sixth grades; Hubert Hoderath and John Reed, instructors; 3:15 p. m. junior choir; 8 p. m. minstrel show in the parish room on both Wednesday and Thursday nights. SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

ROGER E. SPEAR

Many Enterprises Operate in Market

Q) "I've occasionally heard the term 'money market' used. Just what does this mean?" —S. B.

A) There are markets for money, just as there are markets for clothes, automobiles and food.

The money market is a place where borrowers and lenders of short-term funds get together. Commercial centers like New York, London and Paris are especially good examples. It is in cities such as these that the largest business transactions are made and money, of course, is the medium for settlement.

You will find that other "markets" are combined with the money market. Stock and bond trading, for instance, is a part of this structure, as are the various markets for commodities and foreign exchange.

If you should get the chance, a visit to the Wall Street area in New York — or comparable sections in other big cities—will provide you with a good idea of the vast variety of enterprises which make up a money market.

Q) "I am 70 years old and retired. Until this year I never bought stocks. I became interested and purchased shares of Royal McBee at 18, watched them run up a point, and then drop to 11. I haven't a lot of money. What do you think of my choice?"—E. C.

A) I think your holding is much too risky for a man of your age. Royal McBee's position has deteriorated, and the shares look pretty speculative.

At 70 years of age, you should not take chances with your money, since you can't make up losses through future earnings. If you want to invest, do it in a conservative manner and buy quality, relatively stable stocks like Sears Roebuck (NYSE).

There is nothing wrong in principle with buying more venturesome stocks, but I think they should be left to those who are in a better position to assume risk.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Dividends — Korean veterans with "W" type GI insurance policies may expect a dividend in December. Dividends are expected to average $90. The dividend will be paid automatically to eligible policyholders. This dividend does not apply to World War II veterans with "V" type GI policies.

Civil Service—October 30, 1961 is the final date to file for the following titles under the New York State Civil Service: Principal Biostatistician, Senior Biostatistician, Associate Biostatistician, Senior Planning Technician, Associate Planning Technician, Senior Nutritionist and Consultant Public Health Nurse (hospital). Competitive examinations for these titles are scheduled for December 2, 1961.

Insurance—Free insurance no longer exists for U. S. Armed Forces personnel on active military or naval duty. The Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act of 1956 ended free insurance. Before this act was passed Armed Forces personnel who entered the service on or after June 27, 1950 were automatically granted $10,000 free indemnity coverage. This free insurance stopped December 31, 1956.

Pensions — Widows, and children where there is no widow, of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict may be eligible for VA non-service connected death pension payments. This includes widows and children who have made previous applications for death pension which were denied. Even though previously denied pension benefits, widows and children may be eligible for such benefits under a pension law which became effective July 1, 1960. Nearly all widows and children of veterans with more than 90 days of active service, who were discharged under other than dishonorable conditions, may be eligible for pension regardless of the cause of death of the veteran. There is no longer a requirement that a WWII or Korean veteran needs an existing service-connected disability at the time of his death in order for his widow or children to qualify for a pension. With the removal of this requirement, virtually all widows and children of WW II and Korean veterans may qualify for pension. The surviving children of a veteran, moreover, may be eligible for a pension even though a widow may not be eligible for pension, due to her remarriage or for some other cause, such as her income being in excess of the statutory limitations. All widows and guardians of children of WW II or Korean veterans who have died from non-service connected causes, are urged to contact this office to discuss their possible eligibility for a pension. Assistance is available here for anyone desiring to make application for this or any other veteran's benefit.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

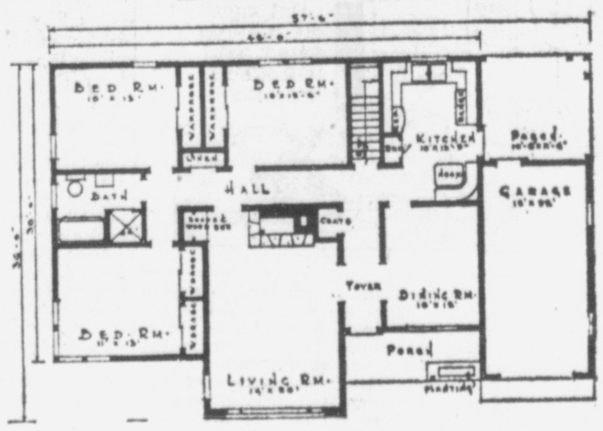
The Franklin



This Ranch House Skips Nothing for Your Comfort

(By Associated Architects)

A central hall, shown in "The Franklin," this week's home by Associated Architects, is a feature of this striking ranch house. This entrance protects the living quarters from foot traffic and gives privacy as well as protection from draughts to both living and dining rooms.

The layout of the Franklin is worth considering. Each feature is not merely interesting from an architectural point of view, but convenient and completely livable. Bedrooms are at one end for quiet and privacy, with the adjourning bath equally accessible to the rest of the house. Living room faces front with picture window and has two doorways. Kitchen is to the rear, just a step or two from the dining room. Garage has a back entrance leading to the kitchen.

Bedrooms are large—the master bedroom 11 by 13 feet—and have an exceptional amount of closet space. The master bedroom has two wardrobes, and the other two bedrooms each have a wardrobe. All are equipped with sliding doors which are modern and eliminate the necessity for space for the swing of the old-fashioned door on hinges.

Even the utilitarian bath is something to admire. It has an enclosed shower stall as well as the regulation tub, and the tub is not beneath the window. A linen closet in the hall is of more than ordinary size and well located.

"The Franklin," viewed from the outside, promises all that it delivers. As much can be said for the interior, particularly the living room, which has a huge picture window, corner fireplace, and a built-in bookcase woodbox. This room measures 14 by 20 feet and its long lengths of wall space permit endless variations of furniture arrangement, a factor that housewives will appreciate. Just outside in the foyer, there is a coat closet.

Men cooks, as well as women, will delight in the kitchen. The accompanying floor plan shows every advantage, from the scientific "U" shaped arrangement of counters, appliances and cabinets, the broom closet (a feature that seems to have been overlooked in many new homes) to the dining nook, with its rounded corner seat.

Front and back, there are covered porches, most welcome when a sudden shower comes up. The family can dine on the rear porch in warm weather, and it may also be turned into an impromptu play yard. It is both big (11½ by 10 feet) and safe.

Associated Architects are making plans of "The Franklin" available at moderate cost. There are two variations, one with basement (total cubage 31,000 cu. ft.) and another without the basement (26,500 cu. ft.). There is little doubt that most families can do without a basement in a house like this. It was with this saving in mind that storage space was so liberally provided. This alone represents a saving of many hundreds of dollars.

You may omit the garage and back porch at first, as another measure of economy. It will not affect the beauty of design.

Other variations are also possible. Blueprints show how the house may be built of brick veneer or siding (as shown in the artist's sketch), or of concrete block. All three are equally striking and successful in this design.

Order plans now and you'll receive, at no extra charge, a list of building materials needed.

Exterior: Ranch house, "The Franklin," is as modern inside as its exterior. Contains three bedrooms in overall size of 57½ by 36 feet, including garage, two porches.

Interior: Luxury touch in the bath is this shower stall. Built-in tub is away from window, eliminating drafts and dust.

Floor Plan: Center hall is a feature restored in many ranch houses by popular demand. "The Franklin" has a 14 by 20 foot living room.

Outnumber Roads

JUNEAU, Wis. (AP) — The United States keeps adding presidents but the town of Ashippun has run out of roads to bear their names. The little community has roads named after Jefferson, Washington, Monroe, Taylor, Fillmore, Lincoln, Cleveland, Taft, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Adams and Roosevelt. Town Chairman Conrad Schwartz regrets that there's no Eisenhower, or Kennedy roads but he commented: "We have no more unnamed roads and it would be too confusing to change names we now have."

Winterize Your Power Mower

By MR. FIX
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are a great many things that you can do to prepare your power mower for winter storage, but only a few that you must do.

A clogged fuel line and rust are the two enemies of your mower if it is not properly stored over the winter. So everything you do should be aimed at combating these dangers.

Gasoline should be completely drained from tank, carburetor and fuel line. If left in, much of it will evaporate, leaving behind a gummy substance that will make starting the engine difficult at best.

If the tank is almost empty you can run the mower dry. Just start it and let it run until it stops by itself.

Some tanks can be disconnected and drained. There also may be a screw at the base of the carburetor for the purpose of draining it. Check the owner's manual for your mower.

Preventing rust is simply a matter of cleaning and lubricating. Brush away all grass clippings. Grass tends to wind itself around the shaft on reel type mowers. Clippings cake up on the underside of a rotary mower.

A mixture of grass, dirt and carbon will need scraping. Blade edges often pick up an accumulation of hardened dirt.

With an oil-soaked rag wipe all metal parts. Grease should be applied to the cutting edge of the blade.

Lubricate Engine

Lubricating the inside of the engine is accomplished by removing the spark plug and pouring a spoonful of clean oil into the opening. Turn the engine over several times (do this by turning the flywheel) to distribute oil on cylinder walls. Then replace the spark plug.

Wrap the mower base and engine in heavy paper, canvas or an old blanket. Do not leave the wheels in direct contact with a concrete floor. A couple of two-by-fours should be placed under the wheels.

Remove Excess Oil

In the spring you can remove the excess oil from the cylinder by removing the plug and spinning the crankshaft by pulling on the starter cord.

These are the things you must do. In addition you may want to sharpen the blade, replace the spark plug and clean out the air filter. Doing these things now will save time next spring, but are not necessary for proper cold weather storage.

Preparations for proper storage do not take long and can extend the life of your mower many seasons. If a lawn mower deteriorates, it does so in the winter when it is not in use, more easily than in the summer when it is being used several times a week.

Old Leather Articles Simple to Renew

Old leather articles such as chairs, luggage, etc., if they are not seriously damaged can be renewed quite simply.

First wash the article with saddle soap, which can be bought in leather goods and some other stores. A damp sponge is a good means of applying the saddle soap.

When it is quite dry, polish it with neutral shoe cream, or if it is available, with a leather renewer dressing.

Coat Screws, Bolts With Aluminum Paint

Keep screws and bolts from rusting by dipping them into aluminum paint. An old tea strainer makes a wonderful dipper. Allow excess paint to drip back into container, then roll out screws and bolts on cardboard. When dry, metal will be encased in nonrusting aluminum sheath.

Next time you have to put a nut and bolt into a tight corner try pounding a strip of solder into one side of the nut. Use the rest of the solder strip as a handle to hold the nut in position. Run bolt into nut as far as possible, twist the solder to disengage it, and finish tightening.

Seek Secretaries And Clerks to Fill Embassy Posts

The Department of State has sent Edward T. Simms of its personnel office to New York to recruit first class secretaries, general clerks, and communications clerks to fill jobs at American consulates and embassies overseas.

Simms has set up offices in room 506 at 220 East 42nd Street, and will be conducting interviews from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. Monday through Friday from October 17 through 27.

"Americans traditionally respond to challenge," Simms said, "and you've got challenge in the Foreign Service. To do the job, these people have to be willing to adapt to a different way of life—another climate, certain inconveniences, unusual customs, new faces, and the sound of a strange language. They've got to have a sense of humor in the face of improbable situations.

They must be ready when the necessity arises, and it does, to work extra hours under pressure."

Beginners in the foreign service staff start at salaries of from $4,010 to $4,495 plus overseas allowances and transportation expenses. Applicants must be at least 21 years old, high school graduates with office experience, single, with no dependents, in excellent health, and American citizens for at least five years. They must be willing to accept assignment to any post in the world, and all are subject to the satisfactory completion of the necessary performance tests.

There are jobs for those who would prefer an assignment in the Department in Washington, D. C. Applicants for these positions must be at least 18 years of age, American citizens, in good health, and must meet Civil Service requirements in typing and shorthand.

Stealing From Himself

NEW YORK (AP) — The new Noel Coward musical "Sail Away" includes three songs from two of his previous London shows. The title song is taken from "Ace of Clubs," that ran in the West End in 1950. "This Is a Night for Lovers" and "This Is a Changing World" are from "Pacific 1860" which had a 1947 run.

Ex-Big Leaguer Reaches Top in Television Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "All my life I wanted to be only two things —a ball player and an actor," says John Berardino, who now has made the big league as both.

John plays one of the egghead cops in ABC's "The New Breed," the series about the Los Angeles Police Department's crack metropolitan squad. As a sort of Ivy League Joe Friday, he has reached the top in TV. He did it faster in baseball.

No bonus baby, John was inked while still playing ball at the University of Southern California by a scout who promised: "You'll be playing in the majors in two years." A year later he was infielder for the St. Louis Browns.

After Navy service in World War II, he was back with the Browns, got peddled to the Cleveland Indians in 1948 and played in the World Series. In 1952 he was sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates at the nadir of their fortunes. A leg injury convinced him to quit the next year.

A native Angeleno, John came back home for a return to his other love, acting. He had started young, as a member of "Our Gang," but quit at 9. During his baseball years, he studied off-season at the Pasadena Playhouse and with a private coach.

But he found out acting was tougher to crack than baseball.

"Once I even got turned down for a part in a baseball picture," he said. "The producer said I didn't look like a ball player!"

John had some lean years, but he stayed with it. He began to specialize in TV heavies and in recent years has bettered his top baseball salary —$20,000 plus $7,800 World Series money. He augments his income by selling TV scripts.

Now 42, John has no worries about his old age. He starts collecting his baseball pension at 50, maybe sooner. He participates in the pension plans of the Screen Actors Guild and the Writers Guild of America. And he expects to be around to collect his Social Security.

Ugly Faces

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) —Neighbors in the little Negro community of Seatack call Clarence Williams "the man who carves those ugly faces." But people like and buy them. Williams, who began wood carving when he was confined with tuberculosis, sells them for $5 to $25 and Walter Thrift, operator of the Artists Gallery here, says the sales have averaged one a day. Williams had never done any carving before his illness.

Feel Steps to Cut Hospital Costs Not To Be Quick Remedy

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — None of the several steps now being taken to cut hospital costs will have a quick effect, Western New York hospital insurance officials says.

Any state agency organized for that purpose would not "understand the problems and. . . .approach them with sympathy," continued Carl M. Metzger, president of the Hospital Service Corp. of Western New York Friday.

He spoke at one of a series of hearing before the Joint Legislatvie Committee on Health Insurance Plans.

Organization of a hospital review and planning council to check on economy and efficiency in hospital services and prevent duplication of effort is one move being made to cut hospital costs, hospital and Blue Cross officials told the committee.

Others, they said, are the Western New York hospital council's investigation of a central purchasing program and inclusion in its membership of non-profit institutions dealing with chronic care.

Nursing homes are now being inspected and accredited by a newly-formed non-profit agency to make them eligible for Blue Cross benefits, witnesses reported.

Rider Educator Named by Group

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Karl G. Pearson of Rider College in Trenton, N.J., is the new president of the Middle Atlantic Association of Colleges of Business Administration.

He was elected Friday to succeed Ossian MacKenzie, dean of the College of Business Administration at Penn State University.

Pearson is chairman of the business administration department at Rider.

Other newly - elected officers: Thomas J. Bryde of Iona College, New Rochelle, vice president; and Joseph A. Buff of Siena College, Loudonville, secretary-treasurer.

The association's two-day meeting closed Friday.

SPCA Asks Funds To Meet $15,000 Operating Budget

Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which operates a shelter on the Brabrant Road near the Washington Avenue viaduct, this week appealed for public support to meet its annual $15,000 budget.

An announcement today from SPCA headquarters states it is not affiliated with the Community Chest and the society has too few workers for a house to house canvass.

The SPCA is a public service for the entire community, operating seven days a week. To meet the public's need, the SPCA employs two full-time workers and a part-time employe, and maintains two ambulances.

Officers and directors work without compensation.

Mrs. J. Addison Freer of Kingston, fund raising chairman organizes food and rummage sales, bazaars and dinners to raise money for the service.

Workers in the area include Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz; Mrs. Dorothy Yess of Highland and Mrs. Alma Whitaker of Woodstock. However, additional workers and new ideas for raising money are needed.

Some funds are raised by membership dues. Area resident may apply for membership to the president, Mrs. James H. Stoutenburgh of Glenford. Meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p. m. in Ulster County Court House.

Mrs. Stoutenburgh said numerous summer residents return to their city homes, abandoning cats and dogs, creating a new problem and a heavy strain on the facilities of the shelter.

These pets are available for adoption.

Those wishing to contribute may mail their donation to Miss Margaret B. Johnson, secretary, 283 Washington Avenue, Kingston.

Must Train, Hire Negroes to Stay Ahead of Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — American employers must train and employ Negroes if the United States is to stay ahead in the production race with Russia and China, a Labor Department official said today.

Jerry Holleman, assistant labor secretary, said in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Electrical Contractors Association, "The traditional and artificial walls fostered by prejudice and senseless hate must be taken down stone by stone to enable the United States full use of all its people."

He also reported on Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg's study of labor-management disputes at missile sites, stating:

"I am happy to report that the more than 10,000 man-days lost per month for each million man-days worked last year has been slashed to 388 man-days lost in the past few months."

Open 2 Sections Of Niagara Spur Parkway Nov. 11

NEW YORK (AP)—Two additional sections of the Niagara Parkway in Niagara Falls, will be opened to traffic at ceremonies scheduled for Nov. 11, Robert Moses, chairman of the New York State Power Authority, said today.

One section extends from Grand Island Bridge to the completed portion of the Riverfront Parkway in Prospect Park. The other runs from Cleveland Ave. north to Devil's Hole State Park and includes the high-level viaduct over Whirlpool Bridge.

Slated at 11 A. M.

The ceremonies will be held at 11 a.m.

Moses also announced that the power authority has approved new electric rate scheduled for the City of Plattsburgh and the village of Churchville, which he said would provide savings totaling $41,500 annually for consumers in the municipalities.

Plattsburgh's rate reduction is the third since the city began receiving power from the St. Lawrence Project on Jan. 1, 1959. It amounts to $36,000 annually Moses said.

Churchville officials have estimated that the village will save $9,500 a year, or 33 per cent of former power costs, by purchasing power from the Niagara Power Project.

Reflect Lower Rate

Under the village's new rate schedule, $5,500 will be passed on to customers in lower rates. The $4,000 not being passed on will be used for financing of additional substation facilities.

The authority also has approved establishment by the Village of Wellsville, of a special rate for outdoor lighting by private individuals, Moses said.

Deposit Native Pledges $400,000 To Upstate School

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP)—Hamilton College has opened its 150th anniversary gift program with a pledge of $400,000 from an alumnus who has already given the school $1 million.

President Robert H. McEwen of Hamilton told an alumni dinner Friday night the pledge was made by Clark H. Minor, retired president of International General Electric Co.

Minor, a native of Deposit, Broome County, and now a New York City resident, is a 1902 graduate and has been chairman of the alumni board since 1945.

The dinner kicked off a 10-year effort to secure $12 million, mostly for faculty salaries.

Nice People Don't Win Battles

Picked Wrong Policy on Berlin Says Commandant of 1948 Airlift

"The United States had two possible policies which could be applied in Berlin at the end of World War 2. We picked the wrong foreign policy!" said retired Brigadier General Frank L. Howley, American Commandant at the time of the Berlin Airlift in 1948 in remarks at the Hartwick College annual Founder's Day Wednesday, October 11.

Speaking to reporters prior to his Founder's Day address, General Howley stated that the policy chosen was that of being nice to the Russians, the policy of appeasement, the policy of trying to win them over to our side.

Favors Aggressive Policy

The policy which was rejected and which General Howley proposed was an aggressive policy, a policy in which "every act short of war would be used to cause the fall of Communists governments."

General Howley pointed to the money given to Tito of Yugoslavia and the weak policy in relationship to Castro in Cuba as examples in which the United States government tried to be nice to the Communists.

"The standard pattern in emerging Nationalism" he said "is for a new country to pose as non-Communist in order to get money from the United States government." "Then the mask is dropped, the moderate front men are killed off, and the Communists-trained leaders emerge."

Can't Drive Wedge

The General also explained to reporters that it is silly to think that we acn drive a wedge between Communist China and Communist Russia. "The only differences between Mao Tse-Tung and Khrushchev are economic ones," said General Howley.

"They both are concerned with how to kill us most effectively," he said. "Khrushchev thinks it can be done from the inside where no one will see, the slow poison method. Mao Tse-Tung is for out-and-out physical aggression. The differences between the two is whether to hit us over the head or use poison."

General Howley, who is now vice president of New York University, went on to say that there are over 1500 schools throughout the world in which Communists are teaching their policies, policies which are designed to enable one-tenth of one per cent of the people in a country to overthrow and take control.

As examples of countries where this is happening, General Howley named Laos, Angolo, and Algiers.

There's No Compromise

"As for compromise with the Russians," said General Howley, "we might just as well talk it over with the devil in trying to get him to compromise toward God." Talking about what he described as the "over and under" policy of the Communists, General Howley noted that this approach is one in which the Communists participate in an organization, seek to control it and if unable to do so, then sew confusion. At the same time, they work underground quietly to accompish their real goals.

"The United Nations is hamstrung because of this approach by the Communists," he said.

"The Communists techniques in Africa are causing real harm," he continued. "It is clear to those who are students of the situation that it will take at least 100 years to develop these countries, but the Communists try to indicate that it can be done immediately in order to gain control."

"Of major importance to all of us is the development of a critical sense. We should peruse our newspapers carefully to be sure we discern the truth," said General Howley.

"Today, lies can be peddled as truths to millions of people."

Already at War

The General concluded his remarks by saying "nice people don't win on the battlefield. We need not worry about getting into war because we are already at war. I believe that the Communists do not want war and that such incidents as border shootings in Berlin will not cause a war," he said. "We could kill as many as 100 or 200 Russian soldiers and unless the Communists wanted to use this incident as a means of starting war, they would not feel compelled to do so."

"What can we do?" asked General Howley. "I hope you will continue, every one of you, to think about the international situation. The old cliches we used to have are out of the window. Now we pay the bills. We die on the battlefields. Please write letters to your representatives. You will be surprised as to how effective your influence can be. This is a democracy and what our leaders do is based on what you think and what you want done."

Medicos to Use Computer System Russians Train

ENDICOTT—Russia is taking its best medical students, training them in mathematics, and drafting them into computer-aided research, a California scientist just back from the Soviet Union said today.

Dr. W. Ross Adey, a professor at the School of Medicine of the University of California in Los Angeles, and the Brain Research Institute, said the Russians are training a new generation of scientists in the twin-skills of medicine and use of electronic computers.

He made his remarks at a meeting being held by the International Business Machines Corporation at its education center here. More than 60 top U. S. scientists are giving progress reports on their use of electronic computers in medical and biological research.

While in Russia, Dr. Adey visited Moscow State University and the Moscow Academy of Medical Sciences, as well as the Pavlov Institute in Leningrad. He returned to the United States three weeks ago.

"The Russians are currently making a gigantic effort in the field of biomedical computers," Dr. Adey commented.

He said the Russians soon will study the way in which the human brain makes use of information.

In his formal paper, Dr. Adey predicted that a whole new hierarchy of computers may come out of studies of the information-handling process of the human brain.

The scientist has made extensive studies of brain waves by use of a computer. He said by studying cerebral systems it may be possible to determine more fundamental ways for computers to handle information.

It now takes a large computer to model a single brain cell, he said. There are thousands of nerve cells in the brain. He predicted it will never be possible to produce a true "thinking machine."

Envoy Gets Special Bed

TRIVANDRUM, India (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Kennth Galbriath, who is 6-feet-8, was provided a special bed today during a visit here.

"I understand the bed was made in a more spacious era of expenditure for a British peer," said the American envoy. "What was good enough for a British peer is good enough for an American Democrat."

FHA Permitted To Make Fallout Shelter Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — An expanded rural housing program which becomes effective Sunday permits the Farmers' Home Administration to make loans for construction of fallout and storm shelters on farms and in rural communities.

Announcing this today the lending agency emphasized, however, that its big goal will be the extenstion of more loans in rural areas for construction, repair, and remodeling of dwellings and essential farm buildings. More than $400 million is expected to be made available for such loans over the next four years.

Howard Bertsch, the agency's administrator, said the expanded program will be an important tool in promoting the development of rural areas.

Jail Break Fails, Six Back in Cells

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Six prisoners are back behind bars today after an unsuccessful attempt to break out of Monroe County Jail.

The prisoners overpowered two jailers Friday night in the visitors area on the first floor, investigators said, and then went to the third floor and used a two-foot pipe to break through a door leading to a dead-end air duct.

City policemen captured them as they were trying to pry away bars sealing off the duct.

Before helping overpower the jailers, one of the prisoners almost pushed his way through an open gate to the visitors area. But a guard who was persuaded by the prisoner to open the gate to receive a package, managed to shut it in time.

Monroe County sheriff's department officials were withholding the names of the prisoners.

John Schatzel Rolls 300 Game in Invitational Classic League

Perfect Game Is 1st for Local Ace; Finishes With 710

John Schatzel hit the jackpot. Rolling Thursday night in the Ferraro Invitational Classic League, the veteran tenpin star opened with a 300 game, the first of his career and finished with a 710 series with additional games of 168 and 242.

Rolling on alleys 19 and 20 at the Bowlerama, Schatzel threw every ball into the 1-3 pocket. For his feat, the first in this area for the 1961-62 season, Schatzel will receive $300 in cash from King Louie of Kansas City, whose shirt he was wearing, and another $100 in cash from John Ferraro, proprietor of the Bowlerama.

The husband of Rose Schatzel, recognized for many years as one of the top women bowlers in the east, John has been bowling about 20 years but only in the last eight or nine has he been bowling regularly. At present the Invitational League on Thursday is the only night in which he bowls and his average is a shade over the 200 mark.

The 300 marked the first perfect game of his career. His previous high was a 286, shot last year. Was he nervous when it was time to throw the 12th ball? "Just a little," he said. As in the case of the first 11 tosses, the ball was right in the pocket, maybe a little higher than the others. But it got the job done.

U. S. Ryder Cup Team Holds Edge

By RONALD THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LYTHAM-ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Jerry Barber led his troupe of top American pro golfers into the payoff stages of the Ryder Cup competition today with a 6-2 lead over Britain and this stern warning:

"Don't relax. We haven't won yet."

The Americans won three of Friday's eight foursomes by the narrowest of margins, 1 up, and another match by only 2 and 1.

"I would have been pleased with a level four matches each," said the American captain. "As it is, I'm amazed and delighted that we have such a good lead.

"But the close result shows that the singles could go either way. So nobody in the American team is going to be allowed to get overconfident," he said.

Arnold Palmer, Britain's favorite American golfer who won this country's open championship three months ago, and Bill Casper collared both their foursomes as did Jay Hebert and Art Wall.

Barber dropped Art Wall from this morning's eight singles even though the tall and lean Pennsylvanian figured in two foursome victories. Bill Collins, who partnered Mike Souchak in an afternoon of trouble that ended with a four and two defeat, also was to rest.

Barber can change his lineup for the eight afternoon singles and may decide to bring both these men back, depending on the early result.

British captain Dai Rees called in long-hitting Harry Weetman and up-and-coming Ralph Moffitt for the singles. Neither played foursomes.

Pairings for the eight morning singles over 18 holes, Americans first:

Doug Ford vs. Harry Weetman, Mike Souchak vs. Ralph Moffitt, Arnold Palmer vs. Peter Alliss, Bill Casper vs. Ken Bousfield, Jay Hebert vs. Dai Rees, Gene Littler vs. Neil Coles, Jerry Barber vs. Bernard Hunt, Dow Finsterwald vs. Christy O'Connor.

Colorado, Detroit Unbeaten; Top Grid Tilts Slated Today

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Colorado used a tough, alert defense and Detroit a brilliant quarterback as the keys for their victories Friday night—each preserving an unbeaten season—as the college football season headed into a Big Ten-dominated weekend.

Colorado, shooting for the Big Eight championship and a postseason trip to the Orange Bowl, showed the bowl committee a determined defense which pounced on a fourth-quarter fumble that set up the winning field goal in a 9-7 victory over injury-weakened Miami.

Junior quarterback Jerry Gross passed for 196 yards—including scoring strikes of 43 and 57 yards—in leading Detroit to a 20-3 conquest of Boston College.

Features of the Saturday slate include three Big Ten games, topped by the Michigan-Michigan State clash in Ann Arbor, Mich. A crowd of about 101,000, plus a national television audience, is expected to watch the struggle between the fifth-ranked Michigan and sixth-ranked State.

Other key contests in the conference include second-ranked Iowa (2-0) opening conference play against winless Indiana (0-2), and seventh-ranked Ohio State (1-1-0) league opener against Illinois (0-2).

Drive Is Halted

Colorado halted a 78-yard Miami drive one foot from its goal in the first period, then turned around and launched a 99-yard march of its own for a 6-0 half-time lead. Miami was on the Colorado five when the half ended.

The Buffaloes went up 9-0 in the last quarter when big Jerry Hillebrand pounced on a Miami fumble that paved the way for his 37-yard field goal. The three points proved decisive as Miami drove 92 yards to score with four minutes left. John Bennett's 25 yard pass to Bill Miller scored the touchdown.

In Detroit, the gritty little (5-feet-9) Gross was the big show. He entered the game fourth in the nation in individual total offense, and boosted his total to 611 yards passing and 96 running in three games.

Top games outside the Big Ten today include Mississippi, No. 1 in the latest Associated Press poll, seeking to extend its unbeaten string to 19 games against Houston.

Alabama (3-0), ranked third, goes against North Carolina State (1-2), while Coach Darrell Royal of fourth-ranked Texas figures to take his fourth straight decision over winless Oklahoma, where Royal starred for Sooner coach Bud Wilkinson.

Southern California, which just missed, 35-34, against Iowa last week goes against eight-ranked Notre Dame. Baylor, No. 9 takes on tough (2-1) Arkansas, and 10th-ranked Maryland goes against North Carolina.

Top professional bowlers, who roll more games in competition in a week than most league rollers do in a month or more, are on the lanes constantly practicing.

Dick Weber, national doubles champion, tells me it is not uncommon for these fellows to roll as many as 50 practice games a week. During practice, the bowler can explore new methods, try different grips or hand positions, concentrate on footwork and coordination.

When the professionals practice, they con't keep score. There's always a temptation to see if you can beat your average, but invariably a bowler will tighten up when he starts to keep a record because he then is in competition.

Practice the shots you need to master to round out your game. Concentrate on a particular problem until you have it licked. Make practice enjoyable. Relax. Concentrate on taking the bugs out of your game. If you approach it right, practice can be almost as enjoyable as the game, not a tedious chore.

Before starting practice, remember to check the end of the approach runway for stickiness or too much smoothness that can throw you off stride.

CHECK END of approach.

San Francisco Seeks Mark For Most Straight Shutouts

The San Francisco 49ers hope to blend their shotgun attack with stonewall defense Sunday for a modern era National Football League record in a game with the Minnesota Vikings at Minneapolis.

The 49ers, with two shutout triumphs the past two weeks, could become the first team to record as many as three straight since the 1934 Detroit Lions turned the trick with seven shutouts in a row.

For this reason, the heavily favored 49ers will share the Sunday spotlight with the Green Bay Packers-Browns battle at Cleveland and the New York Giants-Cowboys scrap in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Four Are Tied

The Giants, the Philadelphia Eagles, the Browns and the Cowboys are hooked up in a first place tie in the league's Eastern Conference, all with 3-1 records. San Francisco and Green Bay are deadlocked at the top of the Western Conference, also with 3-1 marks.

The champion Eagles collide with the Cardinals (2-2) in St. Louis. Other contests send the Baltimore Colts (2-2) against the Bears in Chicago (2-2), the Los Angeles Rams (1-3) against the Lions (2-2) in Detroit, and the Washington Redskins (0-4) against the Steelers, playing without Bobby Layne, at Pittsburgh (0-4).

San Francisco stunned Detroit 49-0 two weeks ago. Last weekend the 49ers thrashed Los Angeles 35-0. This is the first time since 1955 that an NFL team has been able to score even two straight shutouts.

3 Brothers Leads Valley League

Three Brothers Egg Farms continue to pace the Hudson Valley Bowling league after four weeks of action. The Kingston team has a 10-2 record and an average of 996.3.

Jones Dairy has high triple (3231) and high single (1136) while Charlie Manfro and Larry Petersen have clouted 716 triples and Manfro has a 259 solo.

SHEET METAL FOREMAN

We are looking for a man with at least ten years manufacturing experience in sheet metal work who is thoroughly familiar with layout work, shears, power brakes, press brakes, spot welding, arc welding, etc. This is not a working foreman's job but one which calls for layout work, planning and supervision.

We manufacture our own products. The sheet metal department operates more in job shop fashion than as an assembly line.

This is an excellent opportunity for the right man to join a 47-year old company which continues to be a leader in its field.

Justice Molinari Stresses Need to PassCourtReform

"Passing the Court Reform Bill Amendment which will be on the New York State ballot this Election Day is of primary importance to those who would implement improvements in our system of law," said Supreme Court Justice Joseph P. Molinari in an address at Hartwick College this week.

Justice Molinari described the law as the cement that holds society together. He described court calendars conjestion as one of the major problems facing present day law.

"In some areas" he said, "cases are on trial which are six to seven yaers old."

He noted that improvement should come from the recent Congressional action adding 73 additional federal judges.

As an example of methods which have been taken to improve practice of the law in New York State, he cited a recent four-week session in which he was faced with 121 cases. "The use of pre-trial conferences resulted in a settlement of 90 of these cases without a jury trial," he stated. Such procedures are essential to prevent such conditions as exist in New York City where there is frequently as much as a three year delay in the trying of a case.

The New York Supreme Justice spoke Wednesday at the annual Founder's Day luncheon on the Hartwick College Campus. Earlier in the day, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him for his outstanding work in the judicial field.

Corn Harvest Meeting

A field corn harvest meeting will be held at the Jack Gill farm on Lomontville Mountain Road at Hurley on Thursday, October 19, at 1:30 p. m. This is the only large cornfield left on the road.

Sponsored by the Ulster County Agricultural Department, this meeting will give growers an opportunity to see the harvest of the regional late corn for grain trial, planted by the Cornell Plant Breeding Department. Ron Anderson, in charge of the harvest crew, will discuss the varieties with those attending the meeting.

Unaffected by wind, rain, oxidation, vegetation, or eruption, some features of the moon probably have stood unchanged for perhaps four billion years.

TACTFULLY PROMPTING VISITORS TO LEAVE

Q. Can you tell me a tactful way—if there is one—to get a visitor who stays on and on far into the evening, to go home? I have been confronted with this problem many times but never know how to cope with it. Do you have a solution?

A. You might look at your watch and exclaim, "Oh where has this evening gone? The time has passed so quickly I had no idea it was so late." This will bring the lateness of the hour to her attention and let us hope prompt her to leave.

When Girl Invites Boy

Q. When a girl invites a boy to go to a dance with her, is she expected to pay all the expenses of the evening such as transportation, refreshments, etc., in addition to paying for the tickets? Some of my friends feel that since she is the hostess and he her guest, she is responsible for the entire evening. I think she pays for the tickets and he assumes any other expenses. Will you please give me your opinion?

A. Paying for the tickets is all that is expected of a girl. But just in case the boy she has invited does not understand this and has not brought enough money to pay for the extras, it will be wise if she brings enough to pay for them herself.

Where to Send Flowers

Q. Friends of ours will be celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary next week. They are giving a party at the country club to celebrate the occasion and my husband and I have been invited to it. These friends are rather well off and I can't think of a thing to get so we decided to send flowers. I would like to know if these flowers should be sent to their house or to the club where the party is to be held.

A. It will be best to send the flowers to their house where they can enjoy them.

Schwenk's Meter Maids Give Aid To Tardy Parkers

Busy shoppers in the uptown business district were relieved from worrying about a one dollar parking fine during last night's Columbus Day weekend sale, as women from the Young Republican Club patroled the streets with a purse full of nickels and a handy supply of windshield wiper handbills.

Calling themselves "Schwenk's Meter Maids," the young Republican women dropped nickels in overtime meters in behalf of the candidates of John J. Schwenk for mayor, and Benjamin Schecter for alderman-at-large.

The tardy parkers also received a handbill tucked under their winshield wipers calling attention to the fact that "Mayor Radel doubled the parking meter fee to help finance the extravagances of his administration."

Mrs. Naomi Van Steenburgh, heading the Young Republican Club meter squad, said the club intends to expand its meter tending program to include the midtown and downtown shopping areas next week, and will be on duty every Friday night and Saturday afternoon from now until Election Day.

She also urged all persons receiving this service to please add the dollar fine they would have paid, to their contribution to some worth-while community service fund raising drive.

Staatsburg Man Fleeing Police, Killed in Crash

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—A Staatsburg man fleeing a city policeman at high speed was killed instantly early today when his car careened out of control and smashed into a tree. Three shots were fired in the chase.

Patrolman William Paroli said the victim, Raymond R. Lane, 26, had driven off at high speed when he attempted to halt him for speeding.

The officer said the chase reached speeds of 80 miles an hour when it reached Route 9 north of town. He said he fired three times—twice in the air—in an attempt to halt the fleeing car.

The fatal crash occurred, Paroli said, when Lane turned at high speed from the highway into a narrow road running into the Hudson River State Hospital grounds.

A grizzled old prospector had struck it rich and had gone into the city for a spree. He hadn't been out of the wilds for years. First, he went into a barbershop in a suburb to get a shave. It was something he hadn't enjoyed in years.

The barber had a pet monkey which was continually imitating his owner. The barber went to the back for a few minutes and the monkey proceeded to lather the man's face. Then the monkey started stropping the razor and the old man rose up and exclaimed:

Old Man — Stop that! Ye kin tuck th' towel around my face and lather me up, but by golly yer father's got to do the shavin'!

Call the Cops!

It happened at a station in a medium sized city on Sunday.

The porter happened to pass by the parcel locker bank and detected an unpleasant odor. He called the agent and they were, because of previous affairs, undecided what to do. At last he called the city police. When they came they decided to have homicide handy and the corner ready.

After an hour of discussion and plain cussing the agent, at the orders of the coroner, unlocked the bank in which the odor was prevalent. There was a big bundle in there that was so odorous it nearly knocked them off their feet. The coroner donned rubber gloves while the horror stricken crowd stood round and waited.

He carried the heavy parcel into the baggage room and closed the windows and the homicide man got ready to take notes. Slowly and tenderly he unwrapped it and there lay — A HUGE EIGHT POUND ROAST OF BEEF that some intoxicated gent had deposited and forgotten!

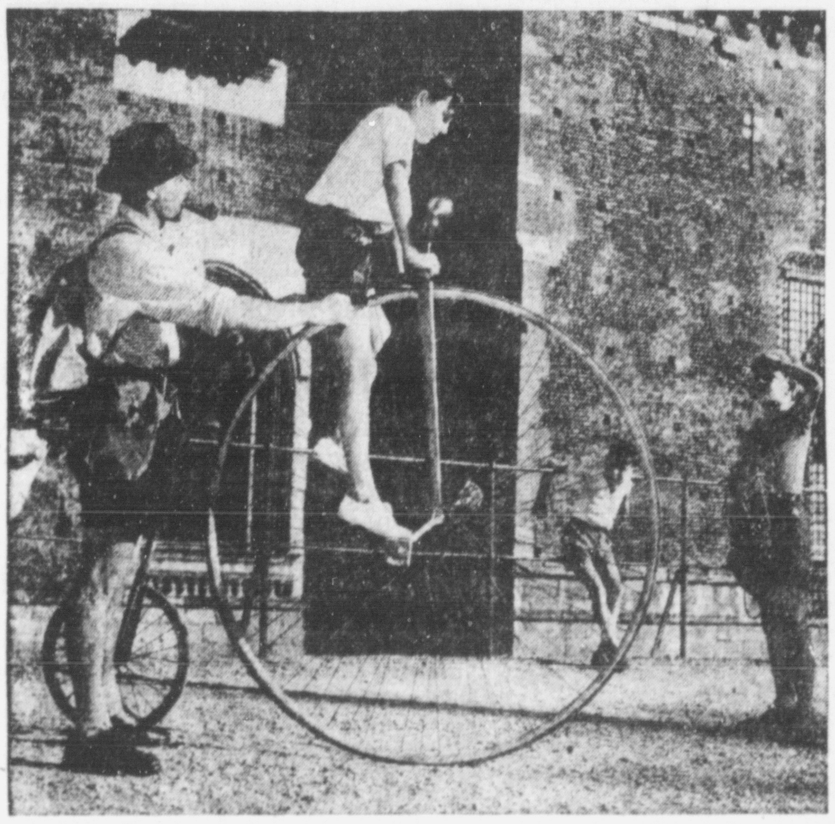
He's a High Rider---



This old high-wheeler gets a try by a young boy in Germany.

They Rattled Your Teeth, But Those Early Bikes Were Fun

Look at one of the sleek new coaster bike of today. It has about everything that can be thought of for the rider's safety and comfort.

Those early wooden-framed, iron-shod, free-wheeling models came to be known as "bone-shakers," and they were just that.

Heavy, clumsy and without springs, they had no chain-pull connected to the pedals and wheels. The front wheel was powered by the pedal and the back wheel just rolled along behind. Nevertheless, they created a sensation when they appeared on the streets.

The very first bicycle was invented in 1816 by Baron Karl Drais Von Sauerbroon, and was given the awkward name of Draisinemobile.

About a hundred years ago, came the model known as the high-wheeler. Present-day riders have a hard time figuring out the advantage of being perched several feet above the ground, but this bike was much lighter than the bone-shaker.

It had a metal framework, steel-wire spokes and hard rubber tires. Since a fall from such a high perch was considered dangerous for ladies and small children, they rode tricycles. These had three wheels, were low to the ground, and looked somewhat like a Civil War cannon carriage.

A strange-looking bike called a velocipede was popular for a while in the early days of biking. It was "born" in American.

It looked very much like a tricycle, only the front wheel was the smallest of the three wheels, and the seat was under the two large back wheels.

The Hanlon Brothers, who were famous acrobats about 1869, used the velocipede in their trick riding act. It started a craze, and soon hundreds of these wooden-framed velocipedes were being turned out.

However, when boys took them out on the streets the velocipedes did not perform the way the Hanlon's did on the stage, so the craze soon died out.

Bicycles remained popular and were constantly improved all the time, until in the 1890's the drop frame safety with tube tires came along, and bikes are definitely here to stay.

They are ridden mostly by young persons in this country, but in many other countries where cars are scarce and gasoline expensive, men, women and children make up a biking caravan that rolls every day.

—Mabel S. Shelton

Old velocipede was a favorite of the dating crowd many years ago. A little hard to pedal, perhaps—but who was in a hurry?

Three Poems For Autumn

WIND OF AUTUMN
by
Frances Gormar Risser

The trees are leaning on the wind
That leaps across the town
In leafy cloak of red and gold,
Gay as a circus clown.
I run before the prancing wind,
Leaves tangled in my hair;
I'm sorry for the rooted trees—
They can't go anywhere.
Oh, it's such fun to race the wind
That huffs and puffs, and plays
A game of hide-and-seek with me,
Through Autumn's golden days!

TREE'S FAREWELL
By Kay Cammer

Good-by for just a little while;
It's time I should be napping—
My leaves are strewn upon the ground;
My brittle branches flapping.

The friendly birds — their shelter gone,
Fly to a warmer clime
So I shall sleep but I'll be green
Once more, come summertime.

THE SEASONS
By Frances Gorman Risser

The winter wind plays old Saint Nick—
His snowy whiskers do the trick!
In spring the wind is young and gay,
And plays so naughtily all day.
In summer he is growing tall
And leaps across the garden wall.
In autumn he's a lazy-bones,
Who pokes around with moans and groans.

Ben Got Thinking; and the World Has Been Rocking Ever Since!

The rocking chair story is an interesting one. Long ago in the fourteenth and fifteenth century, the word "rocker" was given to the nurse who rocked a baby in its cradle to get it to go to sleep.

A child might be fretful or upset, but the motion of the chair usually lulled it to sleep.

After being applied originally to a person—the one who did the rocking—the word then came to mean the curved pieces of wood on the bottom of the cradle. Rockers were used on cradles for three or four centuries, before some inventor thought of putting them on chairs.

Many believe that the rocking chair is an American invention. It was being used in the year 1774, and perhaps earlier. No foreign rocker is found prior to 1840. Benjamin Franklin is credited with inventing the chair, but there is no real proof.

A visitor to Franklin's home in 1787 described a rocker which Franklin used, "his great armed chair, with rockers, and a large fan placed over it, with which he fans himself and keeps off flies, while he sits reading, with only a small motion of his foot."

Many straight chairs of those early days were converted into rockers by chairmakers or cabinet makers. Many a rocker traveled "West" in a covered wagon to become a prized possession in a new home. A rocker always made a room more homelike.

Some rocking chairs were made with a special arm large enough to write on, a small desk, more or less. Then there was a fad of a "rockee," half of which was a seat for a grown person, the other half of which was a cradle for a baby. The mother could rock herself and the baby at the same time. There were even special "rockees" for twins.

Children's rockers began to be made. Painted in many shades, with designs of toys or animals on them, children grew very fond of them.

A favorite was the musical rocker. A small attachment on the bottom of one rocker starts up a little tune when it touches the floor.

—Charlotte Dowdall

Now, here's a rocking chair that really is a rocking chair!

Noodle Names

Neatly lettered names, titles, etc., can be made for pencil boxes, scrapbooks, etc., by pasting uncooked alphabet-noodle letters in the proper order. The letters can be tinted before they are applied or can be used in their natural color.

In the Bag

When you play "Pin the Tail on the Donkey," or other games requiring a blindfold, use a large paper bag, with two holes cut out of the top for ventilation, instead of the handkerchief blindfold. The bag is more comfortable.

SAM

"C'mon Sam—Say 'Ah'!"

The Acrobat

My shadow is an acrobat.
He climbs right up the wall.
He hurdles everything in sight
And never takes a fall.
But he can't do his tricks alone.
It's out of me he grows,
Stretching, stepping, cleverly
He clings right to my toes.

Novel Book Ends

If you have a pair of old-fashioned flatirons, turn them into colorful book ends. Paint them an appropriate color, add a design if you like, then stand them up with the flat sides against the books and handles facing outward.

ZOO'S WHO by GEORGE SCARBO

THE STARFISH IS NOT A FISH BUT A SEA ANIMAL...THEY HAVE NO HEADS, AND NO BRAINS; THEIR MOVEMENTS BEING DIRECTED BY A NERVE CENTER..
HEY! WHAT'S THE IDEA?
A STARFISH HAS NO DEFINABLE EYES, ORGANS OF SCENT OR HEARING, IT MANAGES TO CATCH SWIFT MOVING FISH..
HELP!
OYSTERS ARE A FAVORITE FOOD OF THE STARFISH, WHICH WITH ITS SEEMINGLY FRAIL BODY IS ABLE TO FORCE OPEN SHELLS OF SHELLFISH. AFTER OPENING AN OYSTER, THE STARFISH TURNS ITS OWN STOMACH INSIDE OUT, WRAPS IT AROUND THE OYSTER AND DIGESTS THE MEAL..
THE STARFISH WALKS BY GRIPPING AT SURFACES WITH THE SUCTION CUP FEET THAT PROTRUDE FROM ITS FIVE ARMS...

U. S. Boosts Ryder Cup Lead

LYTHAM-ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Although Arnold Palmer was held to a tie and team Captain Jerry Barber and Jay Hebert were beaten, the United States increased its lead today in the final day of the Ryder Cup golf matches.

At the end of the morning's eight, 18-hole single matches, the score was United States 11, Britain 5.

The Americans led 6-2 after Friday's opening competition in the foursomes. Eight singles matches this afternoon finish the competition.

Jerry Barber, who had warned his players before the start of play "don't relax. We haven't won yet," was beaten by Britain's Bernard Hunt, 5 and 4.

In the other morning matches:

Doug Ford, United States, beat Harry Weetman, 1 up.

Mike Souchak, United States, beat Ralph Moffitt, 5 and 4.

Bill Casper, United States, beat Ken Bousfield, 5 and 3.

Dai Rees, Britain, beat Hebert 2 and 1.

Gene Littler, United States, and Neil Coles halved their match.

Dow Finsterwald, United States, defeated Christy O'Connor 2 and 1.

At the end of the morning round the Americans were poised for a quick victory. They needed only 1½ points from the eight afternoon matches to again win the golden trophy.

Members of the British Parliament buoy up their fellows with "Here, hear," which becomes "(cheers)" in the record of debates.

Elaine Rodney Wins at Roosevelt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elaine Rodney overcame a break with three-eighths of a mile to go and scored an upset victory in the $32,324 U.S. Harness Writers Trot at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night.

Driven by Clint Hodgins, the Eggertsville, N.Y., mare came within 2-5 of a second of the world record for 1¼ miles set in 1953 also at Roosevelt. Her time was 2:33 2-5.

Elaine Rodney returned $8.10. The 11-10 favorite, Air Record, broke stride in the final turn and was placed sixth. Hickory Pride was second and Merrie Duke third.

In features at other New York State harness tracks:

Saratoga Raceway — Vagrancy ($14.30), 2:08 2-5, Norman Conley driving, in a $1,000 trot.

Batavia Downs—Darn Safe ($3) 2:07 4-5, Bill Rouse driving, in a $5,000 invitational trot on a sloppy track.

Johnson, Jones In Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold Johnson will sign to defend his NBA version of the world light heavyweight championship against Doug Jones on Monday.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said Friday the bout will be held in Miami Beach on Dec. 2, and would be televised nationally.

Brenner added that Miami promotor Chris Dundee was preparing to come to New York to complete details for the bout.

Johnson won the title on Feb. 7 when he stopped Jesse Bowdry. The crown had been declared vacant when the NBA took it from Archie Moore.

The Philadelphian meanwhile has successfully defended the championship twice against Von Clay and Eddie Cotton. The unbeaten Jones, a New Yorker who has been clamoring for a title shot, is unbeaten in 20 bouts with 11 knockouts.

Moore still holds the New York-Massachusetts-Europe version of the title.

Davis Cup Team Gets Lead Over Italians

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP)—Even if the United States eventually loses the Davis Cup interzone final to Italy, the Americans already can claim a moral victory.

They have made Italian sports fans and tennis experts eat their words.

Before the five-match series started, Italians were talking of their team winning all the matches and going on to Australia to meet the Australians in the challenge round for the cup.

Now the Italians are not so sure. Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., and Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., have provided the shock for the Italians.

On the red clay central court of the Rome Tennis Club, Friday, Douglas came from behind to upset Italian champion Fausto Gardini in the opening match. The score was 4-6, 4-6, 7-5, 10-8, 6-0.

Then Reed took on Nicola Pietrangeli. Reed is virtually unknown here. He is rated only eighth in the United States. Pietrangeli is generally considered Europe's best amateur.

A Virtual Unknown

Reed made him look bad, winning two sets, 6-2, 8-6, before the match was suspended because of darkness. At the time of suspension, with Pietrangeli serving, Pietrangeli led 4-3 in games in the third set. The match was to continue at 6:30 a.m. EST.

David Freed, nonplaying captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team, said he would not name his doubles team until he knows the Reed-Pietrangeli result.

Apparently Freed would like to use Douglas if he can avoid tiring him.

The other U.S. team members —Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill.—are both under consideration for the doubles.

Kelso in Two Mile Race Next Week at Aqueduct

Bohemia Stable's Kelso, at the moment unchallenged for the honor of Horse of the Year, a title he also held last year, will head the field for the 43rd running of the $100,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup of two miles at Aqueduct next Saturday.

The Jockey Club Gold Cup is the third of a trio of stakes events which will be contested at the Big A next week. The 61st running of the $25,000 added Grand National Steeplechase Handicap, three miles, heads the card on Tuesday and, on Wednesday, the added money event is the sixth running of the $25,000 added Nassau County Handicap, at a mile and a furlong.

Kelso won The Jockey Club Gold Cup last year and this year will attempt to become the fifth horse ever to win two runnings of the event. Rancocas Stable's Mad Hatter won in 1921 and '22; Wheatley Stable's Dark Secret was the victor in 1933 and '34; Walter M. Jeffords' Firethorn scored in 1935 and '37, and Nashua scored in 1955 and '56, the first time in the colors of Belair Stud, the second time the silks of Leslie Combs 2nd.

Last year, Kelso won on a sloppy track and set an American record for the distance of 3:19 2/5. As a three-year-old he carried 119 pounds and beat Gustave Ring's Don Poggio three and a half lengths. Don Poggio is nominated to challenge Kelso again, but this time under equal weights. Last year Don Poggio carried 124 pounds as an older horse in the weight-for-age race.

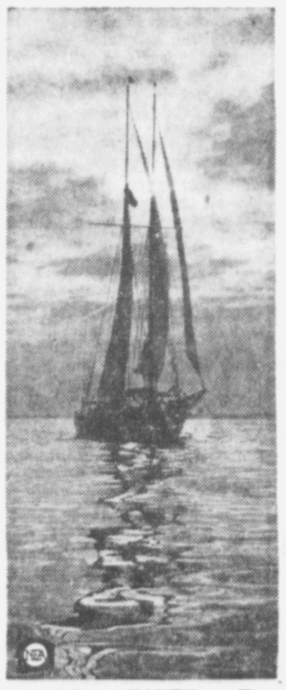
Other Nominees

Among the nominees is Bruno Ferrari's Uruguayan import, and champion in his country, Zumbador II. This one, making only his fifth start in this country on October 7, won the Fayette Handicap at Keeneland, a mile and a furlong race in which C. V. Whitney's favored Tompion was third behind Claiborne Farm's Bluescope.

Another possible starter for the Jockey Club Gold Cup is the High Tide Stable's Whodunit. This is one who likes a distance of ground, usually shows a good run through the stretch. Also nominated, but one which must be considered a doubtful starter, is Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back. This three-year-old colt tangled with Kelso in the Woodward at weight for age, found him too much.

America Afloat

Basic Suggestions Given For Boating Photography



FLOATING BEAUTY — The late sun silhouettes a stately old schooner with shadows on the water providing a classic camera boat study.

BY WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since boating combines more activities than any other sport, it also offers more opportunities for the photographer. Swimming, skiing, skin diving, racing, cruising, hunting, fishing, camping, sailing or trailing to new ports— each is an ideal subject for snapshots.

Good photos and movies on the water are not always easy to take, however. Here are basic suggestions.

Major problems of photography afloat are motion, moisture, and amount of light. A speeding runabout snapped from another rolling boat demands a rapid shutter speed. Your inexpensive snapshot camera works best when used ashore shooting out at boats, or for slow moving subjects on the water.

But when both you and your subject are bouncing around, a camera with shutter speed of a one hundredth of a second and up is better. Expensive still and movie cameras can also offer the luxury of interchangeable lenses and the chance to use a telephoto to pull in distant boats and scenes.

* * *

Water, especially with salt in it, plus sun and sand are enemies of cameras, particularly the expensive models we've just recommended. A neck strap and ever-ready case provide some protection, and a plastic bag or underwater case more.

Keep a yellow filter on your lens for black and white photos, and a clear ultra-violet haze filter when using color. These cut down the glare of blue light that floods a seascape, and they also protect the lens from spray. If you should scratch a filter while cleaning it, the replacement cost is much less than your lens.

When a camera falls in the water, is it worth repairing? "Probably not, unless it's worth over $100 and is a sentimental favorite," repair expert Marty Forsher told me while cleaning salt rust off one of mine. Even then, he said, a new camera may be a better buy.

And how about exposure with all that light bouncing off the water? Stan Rosenfeld, of the famous Morris Rosenfeld team of marine photographers, has just written a discussion of this in an excellent Weston booklet, "How to Shoot Better Photos on the Water," available at camera stores. As he points out, even the experts find marine exposures difficult to guess. Automatic exposure meter cameras can even be fooled by the sunlight.

Instead, take a meter reading from our hand or some nearby object similar to the more distant boat you may be photographing. If necessary, shield the meter from direct sun and water glare, Rosenfield advises.

Final photo notes: Watch the background so that docks, masts and smoke stacks don't seem to grow out of your boat.

Sunlight behind a sailboat will silhouette it effectively and highlight the sails.

People always add interest to your pictures, and don't forget meals aboard, youngsters swimming, that first time on water skis, and those brilliant sunsets this summer. Such photos can bring back boating pleasures during off seasons ashore.

Shorts, Fernandez To Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) —Cecil Shorts of Cleveland gets an opportunity to take a long jump up the welterweight ladder tonight when he meets Jorge Fernandez of Argentina in a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden.

The event will be nationally televised by ABC starting at 9 p.m., EST.

Shorts is substituting for Bruno Visintin of Italy, who was held up because of divorce litigation.

Fernandez, third ranked in the 147-pound division, is favored at 2-1. The 25-year-old Argentine shows a record of 67-5-1, and has won his last six bouts.

Shorts, three years younger than Fernandez, is No. 10 in the welterweight division. His record is 19-7-1, including 9 knockouts.

Houston Passer Sets League Mark In 31-31 Game

BOSTON (AP) — Jackie Lee and the man whose job he's taken — George Blanda — have salvaged a 31-31 tie with Boston for the slumping Houston Oilers.

The American Football League record passing performance of Lee put Blanda in position to kick the tying, 24-yard field goal only five seconds before the finish Friday night.

Kicking was all Blanda did. The veteran who directed Houston to the first AFL title a year ago has lost his regular post to Lee and did not direct a single play.

By completing 27 of 41 passes for 457 yards and 2 touchdowns, Lee helped snap a three-game losing streak for the Oilers and may have eased the pressure on Coach Lou Rymkus who was rumored on his way out if Houston lost.

The previous AFL mark for a passer in a single game was 375 yards.

The Blanda kick also spoiled the Patriots' bid to hand newly-appointed head Coach Mike Holovak a victory. Just 50 seconds before the end, Gino Cappelletti made two spectacular catches worth 20 yards and a go-ahead score off Butch Songin aerials.

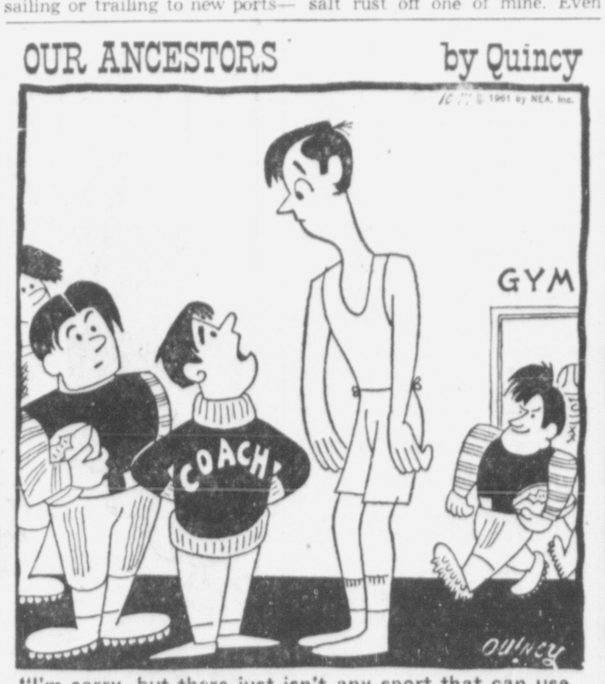
The New York Titans, Eastern Division leaders, meet the unbeaten San Diego Chargers at the Polo Grounds in Sunday's top game. Oakland is at Denver and Dallas at Buffalo in other Sunday games.

Bayer Pacing Golf Tournament

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Miami's George Bayer is still in front at the half-way mark in the $20,000 Ontario Open Golf Tournament.

The hard-driving Bayer, who had a course-record-setting 64 in the first round, slipped to a one-over-par 71 Friday but still is two strokes in front of young Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex. Nichols, former Texas A&M golfer, shot a 71 over the wind-lashed Whispering Lakes course and has 137 for the two rounds.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas and Dave Hill of Denver, who shot 69s Friday, are tied for third place at 138. They and the veteran Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley were the only three to break par 36-34—70 Friday.



"I'm sorry, but there just isn't any sport that can use a skinny beanpole like you!"

County College Committee Urges Voters, Register

A final appeal was issued today by the Citizens Advisory Committee for a community college in Ulster County, urging all eligible voters to register before 10:00 o'clock tonight, if they have not already done so. Within the City of Kingston you cannot vote unless you register, and today is the last opportunity.

The committee further urged that every voter study and discuss the establishment of a community college in Ulster County and be ready to vote on this question on November 7.

The Community College Proposition will be listed on the ballot as "Local Question A". Pamphlets explaining the question are available at the Ulster County Board of Elections Office, 74 John Street in Kingston and the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

JFK Eyes Break In Weather for Cape Cod Cruise

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy looked hopefully today for the fog to lift over Cape Cod and provide fair weather for a cruise on Nantucket Sound.

The presidential yacht, Honey Fitz, was moored near Kennedy's vacation home, a sure indication of his plans.

Kennedy was understood to be ready to announce the panel he is organizing to discover new methods of treating and preventing mental retardation.

Otherwise, he looked forward to two days of rest. The Honey Fitz came over from Newport, where the Kennedys have used it the preceding two weekends.

Fog as thick as New England clam chowder hung over the South Shore of Cape Cod when Kennedy landed late Friday afternoon from Washington for what may be his last weekend of the season in Hyannis Port.

On the flight from Washington, Kennedy chatted in his compartment with Max Jacobson, press representative for President Urho Kekkonen of Finland. Kekkonen arrives in Washington Monday morning for an official visit. Kennedy expects to fly back in time for the welcoming ceremony.

Inonu's Party Is Poll Favorite in Turkish Election

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Sample polls show former President Ismet Inonu's Peoples' Republican party a favorite in Sunday's elections to restore civil government in Turkey.

Newspaper surveys in central Turkey and major urban centers indicated a gathering trend toward the Republicans, the opposition party during the 10-year regime of ousted Premier Adnan Menderes who was hanged a month ago for crimes against the constitution.

Candiates for the 450 seats in the new parliament and for the 129 seats in the senate will be chosen from the Republicans, the Justice party, the New Turkey party and the Republican Peasants Nation party.

All except the Republicans and the Peasants Nation party, have been formed since the May 1960 military coup that overthrew the Menderes regime.

Voting will be on a proportional basis with each party getting the exact percentage of the seats in parliament it wins in the public vote.

Havana Envoy Returns

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Cuban ambassador to Mexico, Jose Antionio Portuondo, was back today after a tour of countries behind the Iron Curtain and said Cuba has sold to the Communists her next four sugar crops at better prices than those prevailing in the world markets. He estimated Cuba's sugar production at 6 million tons a year opportunity," Kuter said in a statement from his headquarters.

Kuter declared that this operation involving hundreds of fighter planes and E52 and B47 bombers of the Strategic Air Command was "not a contest" between offensive and defensive forces. The position of the bombers will be known at all times.

Won't Tell Outcome

The outcome of exercise Sky Shield II will not be known to the public. It will be kept a top drawer military secret. Details on the success or failure of the attack and defense could give Soviet strategists very useful information.

Along with the plane and missile systems, the radar warning nets will play important roles. What their electric eyes see is being flashed to the Colorado control center to aid in aiming the defending system at the invaders.

The public of the United States and Canada will see and hear little of the mock aerial war. But they will know it is on: for 12 hours all aircraft, except military, will be grounded.

The time was picked because from noon to midnight on the weekend normally is the slowest period of the week for the airlines.

Safety Factor Reason

Two reasons are given for grounding airliners as well as all other civilian planes in the millions of square miles through which the warplanes will roam: 1. To avoid danger of collision and 2. The radio beacons, radar and radio communications upon which airliners rely for navigation will be closed down or "jammed" by electronic countermeasures of the defenders and attackers.

Because a similar exercise Sky Shield was conducted in September 1960, and this year's exercise was announced in advance, airlines and travelers were prepared for the inconveniences.

Some airlines put on extra flights Friday night and this morning to accommodate passengers who decided to get where they were going before the "war" started. Other lines didn't.

Airlines and airports at about 50 major cities took advantage of the situation to hold "open house," with the public invited to come and see the planes and facilities.

Elements of the forces of three nations—the United States, Canada and Britain—were given parts in the giant exercise.

Flames Destroy Fashion Firm's Factory Today

Fire swept through a one-story concrete block building on Beck Place, Fairview, Town of Poughkeepsie, this morning despite efforts of Fairview and City of Poughkeepsie firemen, who told The Freeman the origin of the blaze was not determined.

Firemen said the interior of the building occupied by Fashfons Inc., owned by Florence Walsh, was completely involved when they were summoned at about 4 a. m.

Because of the intensity of the blaze, Fire Chief R. Earle DeVor called for assistance through mutual aid and Engine 4 of the City of Poughkeepsie Fire Department was dispatched to the scene.

Firemen were at the scene until about 7 a. m. and reported back in service at 9:15 a. m.

The building was described by firemen as about 100 by 100 feet. No firemen were injured and the fire was confined to the interior of the building and a portion of the roof.

Two Resign From Civil War Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today accepted the resignation of Ret. Maj. Gen. U.S. Grant III as chairman of the controversy-ridden Civil War Centennial Commission and appointed historian Allan Nevins to take his place.

Kennedy also accepted the resignation of Ret. Vice Adm. Stuart H. Ingersoll from the commission.

Both members had submitted resignations Aug. 30. In accepting Grant's today, Kennedy told the 80-year-old grandson of the Union commander he will recommend the commission make him chairman emeritus so that he may continue to participate in its work.

Nevins, 71 and a native of Camp Point, Ill., with long teaching, writing and editing experience, was appointed a member of the commission. It elects its own chairman.

Grant and Ingersoll submitted their resignations in the aftermath of a dispute within the commission over its executive director, Karl B. Betts.

Urundi Premier Slain

USUMBURA, Ruanda-Urundi (AP) — Prince Louis Rwagasore, premier of Urundi, was assassinated by a gunman Monday night while dining with members of his cabinet at a restaurant, police reported.

Police said the gunman fled in a car.

Urundi is the southern part of the twin United Nations trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi in Central Africa administered by Belgium.

Votes to Repeal Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—The Board of Estimate has voted to repeal the city's five per cent legitimate theater admission tax. The move was designed to pass along an estimated $2 million a year to the industry to help meet rising costs.

Pentagon Brass at Hancock

Syracuse Field Nerve Center for Sky Shield

HANCOCK FIELD, N.Y. (AP)—Combat Center, deep inside the blockhouse, is the nerve center for about half the nationwide activity in today's mock aero-space war.

Sometime between noon and midnight, an unarmed striking force will attempt to penetrate America.

Some of the Pentagon's top brass were due to watch exercise Sky Shield from the blockhouse, headquarters of one of eight North American Air Defense regions.

Maj. Gen. Henry Viccellio is the boss of this operation that guards 60-million Americans in the northeast against sneak attack. The northeastern region of the North American Air Defense Command extends from Maine to the Carolinas, west of Ohio.

"The defense of this area is right in this building," Viccellio said.

It is a windowless mammoth of reinforced concrete, its walls 6-feet thick. It sits on the edge of this air base near downtown Syracuse.

You don't get inside unless accompanied by an officer, and then only after obtaining clearance at several check points manned by armed guards.

The blockhouse is one of three combined combat and direction centers in the United States. The others are at Madison, Wis., and Tacoma, Wash.

The combat center itself is as dim as a nightclub. Only the 15X20-foot combat screen extending into a pit in front of the semicircular control panel is brightly illuminated.

"Everything that's taking place in the air shows up here," Viccellio observed.

"The eyes-only man also knows whether the strike craft is a 'faker' (one participating in the exercise)," Viccellio said from his seat at the center of the huge semicircular electronic control panel.

"If he sees another plane, I've got to do something about it—send an interceptor out there."

All civilian aircraft have been grounded for today's test.

It is within his authority, he said, "under certain conditions, to start shooting."

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A dark cloud lifted from the economic outlook during the week when Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union agreed on a three-year national contract.

This major step toward complete labor peace in the industry enhanced the possibilities that the final months of the year will see business rolling along at a fast pace.

Chrysler Last One

With General Motors and American Motors already having signed contracts with the UAW, the Ford agreement leaves only Chrysler Corp. to come to terms with the union.

The final Ford-UAW national terms were agreed upon Wednesday. That left only local grievances to be settled at 26 of Ford's plants. The company and the union were hopeful that production could be resumed at all plants Monday.

Ford operations had been shut down since Oct. 3.

A fly in the ointment developed when one big local rejected the precedent - shattering profit-sharing contract with American Motors. However, the union was hopeful of getting that situation straightened out.

Auto Output Slumps

Auto production slumped as a result of the Ford strike. Output fell to an estimated 99,000 passenger cars from 102,098 during the week and 144,091 a year ago.

A spurt in car sales occurred in the final 10 days of September, when dealers delivered 172,750 new U.S.-made cars, compared with 163,400 in the like week last year. However, sales for all of September sagged to 350,958 from 422,707 a year ago.

The Ford settlement was good news to the steel industry, which has seen its hopes for a sharp pickup in demand early this fall go glimmering because of the GM and Ford strikes.

Steel production during the week declined for the first time in 10 weeks, reflecting the reluctance of automakers to place heavy orders. Output totaled 2,102,000 tons, off 1.4 per cent from the previous week's 2,131,000. Production is down 10 per cent for the year.

Retail Sales About Same

Nonfarm employment showed improvement in September, rising to a new high of 53.9 million, about 200,000 above the previous record set in September 1960. This was a gain of 500,000 over August and 2.6 million above the recession-low last February.

Retail sales of $18.166 billion in September were almost equal to the level of August and September 1960. Retailers of durable goods reported a one per cent gain over August, showing a better demand for automobiles, appliances and home and farm equipment.

The textile industry was heartened by a new federal tax depreciation schedule announced by President Kennedy. The estimated average useful life for most textile machinery was reduced from 25 years to 15 and in some instances 12.

The government made another move against price-fixing and bid-rigging. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked 2,000 state and local governments to report any identical bids they receive.

Briefly around the business scene: Major airlines agreed to sell food to coach passengers instead of serving it free . . . The toy industry expects sales to exceed $1 billion this year for the first time . . . Ford Motor Co.'s aeronautics division received an $8 million contract from the Army for continued development work on the Shillelagh missile.

Cab Driver Is Summoned After Broadway Crash

A 34-year-olu Eddyville taxicab driver was summoned to appear in City Court early today after the 1961 vehicle he was driving was involved in a collision at Broadway and Pine Grove Avenue with a car operated by a state trooper.

Trooper Robert H. Reu, 32, of State Police headquarters at Malone, summoned Norman Carpentier, Box 52, Eddyville, on a charge of passing a motor vehicle on the right side.

According to Patrolman Frank Monte's report, the trooper was traveling south on Broadway and attempting a right turn into Pine Grove Avenue, when the accident occurred.

Police said William Douglas, 47, of 62 Hunter Street, a passenger complained of an injury of the right knee. Douglas said he would be examined by a physician.

L. I. Man Is Hurt In Thruway Mishap

A Long Island motorist is in Kingston Hospital with head and neck injuries reportedly suffered this morning in an accident on the Thruway about nine miles south of Kingston interchange.

State Trooper Fred Cooper said James McGeon, 50, of 4034 61st Street, Woodside, L. I., told him he and his wife were headed north when they were cut off by a passing car. Their vehicle overturned two or three times and landed upside down on the center mall.

McGeon was taken to the hospital in Fatum's ambulance. His wife, apparently suffered minor injuries but was not admitted to the hospital, Cooper said.

Anglo Sailors In Mercy Try For Islanders

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Sailors from the British frigate Leopard went ashore amid the ash and smoke of volcano-wracked Tristan de Cunha today in an attempt to salvage possessions abandoned by the islanders driven from their lonely homeland in the southern Atlantic.

The Leopard's captain, Cmdr. P. Hicks-Beach, watching from the warship's bridge, radioed that the four cones of the volcano were still active. "It is smoking merrily with occasional puffs of sulphur."

Landing parties hope to save large quantities of the islanders' movable belongings but the Leopard cannot take aboard any of the abandoned animals. Shore parties were reported prepared to destroy the domestic pets to save them a miserable death from starvation if they get the order from the islanders to do so.

In London, the Admiralty received a message from the Leopard saying that all the dogs on Tristan had to be shot.

Meanwhile the Dutch liner Tjisadane, which rescued the entire Tristan population of 292 radioed the islanders were still bewildered at the worst disaster in their primitive history.

They owed their lives, they said, to luck.

Smooth days had enabled rowboats to carry out the evacuation safely, while the Tjisadane was paying one of its rare visits to Tristan and the volcano began erupting slowly.

State Museum Requests Photos Of Early Indians

ALBANY — The New York State Museum and Science Service has announced it is interested in acquiring, by gift if possible, photographs of Indians and Indians performing various activities such as ceremonies, dances, sports, snow snake, grinding corn, basketry, etc.

Dr. William N. Fenton, assistant commissioner of education for the State Museum and Science Service, reports Indians of New York State have not only been favorite subjects of photographers over the years but that Indians are known to have frequently visited portrait studios in towns neighboring Indian reservations.

Old photographs of Indians and Indian activities are of particular interest at the present time to anthropologists for current studies because they show physical types and quite often illustrate costumes and customs that have long since gone out of fashion. Of greatest use to the State Museum and Science Service for research use will be photographs on Indian subjects that can be identified by name, date, and place.

Information concerning such old photographs should be addressed to Dr. William N. Fenton, assistant commissioner for State Museum and Science Service, State Education Department, Albany 1.

Jury Calls Gallo Kin to Testify

NEW YORK (AP)—The wives of two members of Brooklyn's Gallo gang and the mother of another appeared Friday before a rackets grand jury probing the murder of one of the mob's henchmen.

Eight other wives and mothers of the gang's members have been subpoenaed to appear before the special jury.

The panel is probing the daylight assassination of Joseph Magnasco, 33, last Wednesday on a Brooklyn street.

Magnasco was described by police as a lieutenant in the Brooklyn coin machine gang led by the Gallos — Larry, Joseph (Crazy Joe) and Albert.

Among Friday's witnesses were three men described by aides of the district attorney only as "mystery witnesses." Asst. Dist. Atty. Aaron J. Koota said their identity was being withheld "for reasons of personal safety."

Police say Magnasco may have been shot to death by members of a rival gang in an underworld war sparked by the attempted murder last August of Larry Gallo.

The husbands of the women called to testify, including the Gallo brothers, are being held in $25,000 bail as material witnesses.

Battista Case Will Go to Court

NEW YORK (AP) — The law chairman of the Kings (Brooklyn) County Republican Committee says he will go to the State Court of Appeals in an attempt to invalidate Vito Battista's nomination as the mayoral candidate of the United Taxpayers Party.

Theodore D. Ostrow said he would seek permission of a Court of Appeals judge to take the case to the full court in Albany.

Ostrow's statement followed a ruling in which the Appellate Division unanimously upheld Friday a lower court ruling restoring Battista to the ballot in the Nov. 7 election.
